Halio,1992 Philip Roth is unquestionably one of the major literary voices of our time one who has combined critical acclaim with a wide readership Since the publication of Bernard F Rodgers s Twayne study of Roth 1978 Roth s oeuvre has expanded considerably both in bulk and in range with the publication of such major works as The Ghost Writer The Counterlife and Patrimony Philip Roth Revisited is an entirely new look at this important writer s life and work In this sensitive study Jay L Halio interprets Roth as fundamentally a comic writer in the tradition of that great sit down comedian Franz Kafka Humor Halio argues is for Roth the vehicle of truth The present volume is more than a study of a single theme in Roth s work however for Halio gives full consideration to the many complexities of Roth s writings Roth has always for instance been a writer deeply concerned with characteristically Jewish themes often controversially so as in his outrageously comic Portnoy s Complaint Halio places Roth in his Jewish American milieu explaining both the similarities and the differences between Roth and other Jewish American writers and discussing the reception of Roth s work by the Jewish community In the latter part of his career perhaps influenced by the insistence of readers and critics on seeing the author himself in his protagonists Roth has turned to the complex theme of the interweaving of art and autobiography a concern that has both intrigued and irritated some critics Halio s analysis of this important element in Roth s work is perhaps the clearest available reading of a notoriously complex subject Comic subtle intelligent Philip Roth's literary art requires careful and sensitive reading Halio's study will be valuable to students and scholars of American literature and to general readers interested in learning about one of America's leading men of letters

The Sexual Politics of Time Susannah Radstone, 2007-12-03 Looking at a diverse range of texts including Marilyn French's The Women's Room Philip Roth's Patrimony the writings of Walter Benjamin and Fredric Jameson and films such as Cinema Paradiso Susannah Radstone argues that though time has been foregrounded in theories of postmodernism those theories have ignored the question of time and sexual difference The Sexual Politics of Time proposes that the contemporary western world has witnessed a shift from the age of confession to the era of memory In a series of chapters on confession nostalgia the memories of boyhood film and the memoir Susannah Radstone sets out to complicate this claim Developing her argument through psychoanalytic theory she proposes that an attention to time and sexual difference raises questions not only about the analysis and characterization of texts but also about how cultural epochs are mapped through time The Sexual Politics of Time will be of interest to students and researchers of time memory difference and cultural change in subjects such as Media and Cultural Studies Sociology Film Studies

Repossessing the World Helen M. Buss, 2006-01-01 Why does it seem as if everyone is writing memoirs and particularly women The current popularity of memoir verifies the common belief that we each have a story to tell And we do especially women Memoirs are not only representations of women s personal lives but also of their desire to repossess important parts of our culture in which women s stories have not mattered Beginning with her own motivations for writing memoirs Helen M Buss examines the many kinds of memoir written by contemporary women memoirs about growing up memoirs about traumatic events about relationships about work In writing memoirs these women publicly assert that their lives have mattered They reshape the memoir a form as old as the middle ages and as young as today into a social discourse that blends the personal with the political the self with the significant other literature with history and fiction with autobiography and essay Buss urges readers to use their reading experience to help themselves understand and write the significance of their own lives Repossessing the World is the first book length critical inquiry into women s use of a form that has often been dismissed as less important than autobiography less professional than the novel and less intellectual than the formal essay Buss demonstrates that the memoir makes its own art not only through selective borrowing from these genres but also through the unique way that the tripartite narrative voice of the memoir constructs the personal and public experience of the memorist as significant to our cultural moment
