

Chapter 4 Case Study: Personal Finance, Inc. Data-Pooling Summary

Below is the summary of information that resulted:

Personal Finance, Inc. owns and operates Mutual Finance, a direct life insurance sales. This company has been able, and that company is planning an international expansion by opening a new "subsidiary" in the British area. Personal Finance president, Charles Lott, noted an IT requirement.

Susan Park, to have develop an information system for that new facility. During the project, Susan will work closely with Greg Lewis, who will manage the new operation.

Background

During requirements modeling for the new system, Susan Park met with financial system manager and an external Personal Finance consultant. She conducted a series of interviews, reviewed company records, discussed business operations, analyzed the financial data processing workflow, and identified a complex of rules and billing transactions. Susan's objective was to develop a list of system requirements for the proposed system.

The system must be able to maintain, without redundancy, both full and partial. Full members have access to all activities. Limited members are restricted in activities they have relevant functionality/priorities in other activities, paying a usage fee. Full members have a change privilege. Changes in membership and services are recorded in exchange slips, which is signed by the member.

With the initial working rule rules and changes are stored on the financial data processing software. The business is a complex combination of rules for each. Early rule changes are implemented automatically and applied to the original Personal Finance system. The financial data processing software usually accepts input with a listing of all data transactions.

With the initial the month, the local manager uses financial data processing as a means to identify activity necessary to the Personal Finance headquarters and changes, a financial system, and
