walk away The boy wasn't the mission Twenty years on Ryker is approached by two strangers in Antibes France asking for his help in finding Gregor now going by the name of Gregor Rebrov With a back catalogue of crimes against the Russian state Gregor has escaped from a gulag in Siberia and is now in the wind Fuelled by old demons and painful memories of his own brutal actions in the past Ryker finds himself once again in the thick of a complicated race against time and who knows how many of the world's secret services to find Gregor and get some answers As answers turn into more questions they lead Ryker closer to home and he can't shake the feeling that he may be to blame A brand new high stakes thriller Perfect for fans of Lee Child and Robert Ludlum Praise for Rob Sinclair Gritty brutal explosive Rob Sinclair's writing never fails to deliver Alex Shaw A very entertaining read M J Porter A cracking thriller with a Reacheresque hero you can't help but root for John Ryder An action packed high stakes and heart stopping thriller Bookish Jottings Action and suspense from the off David's Book Blurg A shocking and exciting page turner Lynda's Book Reviews Perfectly paced and full of action Little Miss Book Lover 87 A thrilling tale told at breakneck pace Reader Review A rollercoaster ride of skulduggery Reader Review A great page turner of a read Reader Review Fast paced brutal in places and yet highly entertaining and enjoyable Twists and turns all over the place Reader Review

The Sounds of Social Space Paul Kendall, 2019-01-31 A giant statue of a six pipe musical instrument stands in the heart of Kaili city Yet despite its prominent placement intended to convey the essence of the city residents hold extremely low opinions of music making in Kaili particularly when compared to the authentic music found in surrounding ethnic minority villages In this engaging accessible work author Paul Kendall investigates this conundrum and comes to terms with conflicting representations of a small southwestern Chinese city branded the homeland of one hundred festivals Drawing on Henri Lefebvre's triad of social space the book explores the relationship between Kaili's branding built environment and everyday life how China's post Mao built environment hinders and hides everyday music making even in a tourist destination for ethnic music how residents themselves deny or downplay the existence of ethnic music in the city despite the government's efforts to promote it how amateur musicians have constructed generational hierarchies of musical practice within a shifting cityscape Kendall argues that increased focus on the small city helps counter a tendency to conceive China as either timeless village or futuristic metropolis and enables a more comprehensive understanding of the urban experience both in China and beyond He shows that many Kaili inhabitants recognize not only a rural urban divide long a dominant geographical notion of China but also a more complex conceptualization of village small city and big city By interweaving theories of authenticity with an innovative interpretation of space Kendall shows how the category of fake minority emerged from this small city as a surprisingly positive form of self identification suggesting that there are ways of not being ethnic even in often exoticized southwest China The Sounds of Social Space makes a distinctive contribution across a range of disciplinary interests including Chinese studies urban studies anthropology and ethnomusicology Cases
