Smallwood, Christine Redman-Waldeyer, 2014-09-04 Unlike previous volumes which focus on how to earn a living while writing in very specific areas this anthology accurately describes a wide range of different avenues an aspiring author can pursue either for profit or for personal fulfillment Speaking directly to retirees this book opens doors to many other areas worth pursuing its chapters vary from the inspirational the importance of linking to a community with similar interests reconnecting to one's dreams seeking inspirational sources to the quotidian everyday writing tips and how to use one's experience to find subjects to write about Writing after Retirement provides a variety of vantage points from published authors and paints a realistic portrayal of what it takes to get started in the industry This book also includes preparation for the challenges that aspiring writers face and practical guides for overcoming them A range of issues are addressed Linking one's writing to current activities The nuts and bolts of writing Planning one's estate New career paths Writing opportunities Practical advice on how to take that first step Whether writing for pleasure or for profit the reader will find plenty to choose from in this collection Contest(ed) Writing Mary Lamb, 2013-01-14 This collection is about writing contests a vibrant rhetorical practice traceable to rhetorical performances in ancient Greece In their discussion of contests cultural work the scholars who have contributed to this collection uncover important questions about our practices For example educational contests as epideictic rhetoric do indeed celebrate writing but does this celebration merely relieve educators of the responsibility of finding ways for all writers to succeed Contests designed to reward single winners and singly authored works admirably celebrate hard work but do they over emphasize exceptional individual achievement over shared goals and communal reward for success Taking a cultural rhetorical approach to contests each chapter demonstrates the cultural work the contests accomplish The essays in Part I examine contests and riddles in classical Greek and Roman periods educational contests in eighteenth century Scotland and the Lyceum movement in the Antebellum American South The next set of essays discusses how contests leverage competition and reward in educational settings medieval universities American turn of the century women's colleges twenty first century scholarship essay contests and writing contests for speakers of other languages at the University of Portsmouth The last set of essays examines popular contests including poetry contests in Youth Spoken Word popular American contests designed by marketers and twenty first century podcasting competitions This collection then takes up contests as a cultural marker of our values assumptions and relationships to writing contests and competition

Activism through Poetry Marina Llorente, Marcella Salvi, 2017-05-22 Activism through Poetry Critical Spanish Poems in Translation is a compiled anthology of translated poems which explore cultural political social and ecological issues in the context of contemporary Spain The work highlights the active role that poetry plays in the debate of these issues The anthology begins with an introduction which provides a theoretical framework and a critical analysis of each poem It is an important contribution in the academic context and also in the more general context of international social and political action It constitutes the first bilingual translation of selected poems written by well known and emergent contemporary critical poets from Spain The five sections Historical Memory Ecology Political and Social Issues Patriarchy and Capitalism feature four poems with a total of twenty poems ten written by women and ten written by men These poets are activists whose poetry comments on society and more importantly wants to have an impact on it The poetic art that is born from ethical commitment has the potential to call attention not only to the realities of the world we live in but also to the possibilities for transformation Poetry therefore is ultimately a political act

Research Anthology on Service Learning and Community Engagement Teaching Practices Management Association, Information Resources, 2021-12-30 The need for more empathetic and community focused students must begin with educators as service learning has begun to grow in popularity throughout the years By implementing service and community aspects into the classroom at an early age educators have a greater chance of influencing students and creating a new generation of service minded individuals who care about their communities Teachers must have the necessary skills and current information available to them to provide students with quality service learning and community engagement curricula The Research Anthology on Service Learning and Community Engagement Teaching Practices provides a thorough investigation of the current trends best practices and challenges of teaching practices for service learning and community engagement Using innovative research it outlines the struggles frameworks and recommendations necessary for educators to engage students and provide them with a comprehensive education in service learning Covering topics such as lesson planning teacher education and cultural humility it is a crucial reference for educators administrators universities lesson planners researchers academicians and students The Selling and Self-Regulation of Contemporary Poetry J.T.

Welsch,2020-03-31 The Selling and Self Regulation of Contemporary Poetry is the first book length study of the contemporary poetry industry By documenting radical changes over the past decade in the way poems are published sold and consumed it connects the seemingly small world of poetry with the other wider creative industries In reassessing an art form that has been traditionally seen as free from or even resistant to material concerns the book confronts the real pressures and real opportunities faced by poets and publishers in the wake of economic and cultural shifts since 2008 The changing role of anthologies prizes and publishers are considered alongside new technologies new arts policy and re conceptions of poetic labour Ultimately it argues that poetry s continued growth and diversification also leaves individuals with more responsibility than ever for sustaining its communities Personal Narratives, Peripheral Theatres: Essays on the Great War

(1914-18) Anthony Barker,Maria Eugénia Pereira,Maria Teresa Cortez,Paulo Alexandre Pereira,Otília Martins,2017-12-14 This book is a collection of essays on neglected aspects of the Great War It begins by asking what exactly was so Great about it before turning to individual studies of various aspects of the war These fall broadly into two categories Firstly personal micro narratives that deal directly with the experience of war often derived from contemporary interest in diaries and oral histories Presenting both a close up view of the viscosity and the tedium and powerlessness of personal situations these same narratives also address the effects of the war on hitherto under regarded groups such as children and animals Secondly the authors look at the impact of the course of the war on theatres often left out in reflections on the main European combatants and therefore not part of the regular iconography of the trenches in places such as Denmark Canada India the Levant Greece and East Africa Journal of Character Education Jacques S. Benninga,Marvin W Berkowitz,2015-12-01 The Journal of Character Education is the only professional journal in education devoted to character education It is designed to cover the field from the latest research to applied best practices We include original research reports editorials and conceptual articles by the best minds in our field reviews of latest books ideas and examples of the integration with character education of socio emotional learning and other relevant strategies and manuscripts by educators that describe best practices in teaching and learning related to character education The Journal of Character Education has for over a decade been the sole scholarly journal focused on research theory measurement and practice of character education This issue includes four empirical articles a practitioner s voice and a book review Topics covered in this issue include different approaches to character education in the classroom e g using literature narrative writing how teachers promote character education and how coaches may promote character development Nasty Women Posters Cider Mill Press,2020-10-06
