Resources in education , 1988-04 Paul's Letter to the Philippians Ben Witherington, III, Ben Witherington, 2011-10-06 Paul s short affectionate letter to the Philippians has been much belabored of late by biblical scholars keen to analyze it in light of Greco Roman letter writing conventions Yet Ben Witherington argues that Philippians shouldn t be read as a letter at all but rather as a masterful piece of long distance oratory an extension of Paul s oral speech dictated to a scribe and meant to be read aloud to its recipients With this in mind Witherington analyzes Philippians in light of Greco Roman rhetorical conventions identifying Paul s purpose highlighting his main points and his persuasive strategies and considering how his audience denizens of a society of limited literacy yet saturated in highly skilled oral rhetoric would have heard and received Paul's message

Bronchud, 2007 The Price of Partnership in the Letter of Paul to the Philippians Mark A.

Jennings, 2018-01-25 Mark A Jennings challenges the consensus that there is no clear single purpose that shapes the entire epistle to the Philippians instead arguing that there is significant evidence for Paul to have written the letter with the sole intent of persuading the church to maintain its exclusive partnership with him and his gospel mission Jennings examines each section of Philippians with standard historical critical methods rhetorical criticism and social scientific methods Establishing that Paul's argument is rooted in three fundamental tenets emphasis is first placed on koinonia and the agreement that Paul and the Philippians had entered into regarding his apostolic mission Second Jennings looks at the repeated proofs that Paul offers that simultaneously affirm the ordained superiority of his apostolic mission and repudiate the claims of his rivals Third Jennings analyses the issue of finances in the epistle discussing how Paul rhetorically transforms the Philippians financial support into a salient indicator that they esteem his gospel mission authentic Finally whereas other scholars have argued that Paul entreats the Philippians to be steadfast in their commitment to the gospel of Christ Jennings proposes that Paul urges the church to be steadfast in their commitment to his gospel of Christ Jennings then considers how this seemingly small distinction has profound ramifications for understanding the letter and shows the gap between these interpretations
