The Revision Revolution: How to build a culture of effective study in your school Helen Howell, Ross Morrison McGill, 2022-01-21 Have you ever wondered why your students don't revise? Or why they revise ineffectively? Often they simply don't know how. This is where The Revision Revolution comes in. What if instead of just telling students to revise, we taught them explicit study skills from Year 7? What if we made revision enjoyable, even irresistible? The aim is not just to help students pass exams but to embed their learning and help them grow into knowledgeable and informed young adults. In this book, Helen Howell and Ross Morrison McGill guide you step by step through how to start and sustain a revision revolution in your school, building a culture of effective study that flows through all aspects of school life.

Post-Conflict Security in South Sudan Nyambura Wambugu, 2019-07-25 Just eight years after the signing of the Comprehensive Peace Agreement (CPA) and two years after gaining independence, the world's newest nation state descended once more into violence and civil war. Why have policies of liberal peacebuilding failed to bring lasting stability to the region? And what now for South Sudan? Nyambura Wambugu, an academic with more than ten years' practical advisory and policymaking experience, adopts a holistic and multi-thematic approach to answer these crucial questions. Rooting her analysis as deeply as the initial militarisation of Sudan in the 1950s, Wambugu considers the complex and overlapping issues that have afflicted the region.

since 2005 In the process Wambugu demonstrates the failure of the billions of dollars spent on liberal peacebuilding and elucidates the possibility of demilitarisation as a lasting and sustainable alternative Such issues are common in post conflict states and the book therefore acts as a case study for better understanding the deeply entrenched causes of instability and identifying the most sustainable paths to peace This meticulously researched account is essential reading for all students researchers and policymakers working on post conflict societies

Forgiving, Forgetting, and Moving On Robert E. Hooberman, 2010-10-21 How do we come to relative peace when we have behaved badly or how do we come to grips with the misbehaviors of those around us Forgiving oneself or others may not always be fitting and forgetting may represent more denial than accommodation Moving beyond conflict to beneficial solutions is often hard to achieve and sometimes seems beyond hope In Forgiving Forgetting and Moving On Robert Hooberman explains to clinicians and those interested in their own internal psychological workings how and why we become overwhelmed by conflict and he explores methods to work through these conflicts Hooberman believes that conflict can best be understood through a thorough process of psychological formulation culminating in a picture of the individual's character structure Understanding character opens up the patient's internal world leading toward greater appreciation of the causative factors Using numerous case examples Hooberman explains therapeutic techniques that assist patients in finding new solutions for conflicts that were previously felt to have been intractable
