The Palgrave Handbook of Contemporary Kenya Wanjala S. Nasong'o, Maurice N. Amutabi, Toyin Falola, 2023-05-27

This volume is a bold attempt to address a comprehensive range of themes and issues relating to contemporary Kenya. It covers independent Kenya's history, society, culture, economics, politics, and environment with great breadth and depth, comprising thirty-four chapters divided into three parts. Part I focuses on independence and the political economy of development, followed by Part II on environment, globalization, gender, and society. Part III examines the external context's impact and implications for Kenya and the role of Kenya in the global political economy.

Conservation Agriculture in Africa Saidi Mkomwa, Amir H. Kassam, 2022-01-11. Tillage agriculture has led to widespread soil and ecosystem degradation globally, and more particularly in the developing regions. This is especially so in Africa, where traditional agricultural practices have become unsustainable due to severe exploitation of natural resources with negative impacts on the environment and food system. In addition, agricultural land use in Africa today faces major challenges, including increased costs, climate change, and a need to transform to more sustainable production intensification systems. Conservation Agriculture has emerged as a major alternative, sustainable, climate-smart agriculture approach in Africa and has spread to many African countries in the past decade, as more development and research, including in sustainable mechanization, has enabled its extension and uptake. It is key to transforming Africa's agriculture and food system, given its ability to restore soil health, biodiversity, and productivity of millions of smallholder farms, as well as larger-scale farms. This book is aimed at all agricultural stakeholders in the public, private, and civil sectors in Africa, engaged in supporting the transformation of conventional tillage agriculture to Conservation Agriculture. The book will be of interest to researchers, academics, students, development stakeholders, public and private sector investors, and policy makers, as well as institutional libraries across the world.

Student Stress in Higher Education Aloka, Peter, 2023-12-07. In the realm of higher education, the journey to academic success is often accompanied by an array of challenges, particularly in the form of stress and its profound impact on mental health. The multifaceted nature of these challenges, stemming from a variety of factors, has sparked significant interest among scholars and educators alike. Student Stress in Higher Education delves into the intricate interplay between stressors, coping mechanisms, and the psychological well-being of students within higher education institutions. This book addresses a conspicuous gap in existing literature, meticulously examining the dimensions of stress uniquely experienced in higher education settings. The chapters contained within illuminate various facets of this complex issue. From the barriers obstructing effective stress management to the gender disparities in mental health experiences, each chapter dissects a critical aspect of the overarching theme. The insights garnered from these chapters hold potential to reshape institutional approaches to mental health awareness and support. This book serves as a beacon of knowledge for a diverse readership. Scholars seeking to explore the nuanced landscape of student well-being will find this volume to be an indispensable

2030 and beyond Treatise on Geomorphology ,2013-02-27 The changing focus and approach of geomorphic research suggests that the time is opportune for a summary of the state of discipline The number of peer reviewed papers published in geomorphic journals has grown steadily for more than two decades and more importantly the diversity of authors with respect to geographic location and disciplinary background geography geology ecology civil engineering computer science geographic information science and others has expanded dramatically As more good minds are drawn to geomorphology and the breadth of the peer reviewed literature grows an effective summary of contemporary geomorphic knowledge becomes increasingly difficult The fourteen volumes of this Treatise on Geomorphology will provide an important reference for users from undergraduate students looking for term paper topics to graduate students starting a literature review for their thesis work and professionals seeking a concise summary of a particular topic Information on the historical development of diverse topics within geomorphology provides context for ongoing research discussion of research strategies equipment and field methods laboratory experiments and numerical simulations reflect the multiple approaches to understanding Earth s surfaces and summaries of outstanding research questions highlight future challenges and suggest productive new avenues for research Our future ability to adapt to geomorphic changes in the critical zone very much hinges upon how well landform scientists comprehend the dynamics of Earth s diverse surfaces This Treatise on Geomorphology provides a useful synthesis of the state of the discipline as well as highlighting productive research directions that Educators and students researchers will find useful Geomorphology has advanced greatly in the last 10 years to become a very interdisciplinary field Undergraduate students looking for term paper topics to graduate students starting a literature review for their thesis work and professionals seeking a concise summary of a particular topic will find the answers they need in this broad reference work which has been designed and written to accommodate their diverse backgrounds and levels of understanding Editor in Chief Prof J F Shroder of the University of Nebraska at Omaha is past president of the QG G section of the Geological Society of America and present Trustee of the GSA Foundation while being well respected in the geomorphology research community and having won numerous awards in the field A host of noted international geomorphologists have contributed state of the art chapters to the work Readers can be guaranteed that every chapter in this extensive work has been critically reviewed for consistency and accuracy by the World expert Volume Editors and by the Editor in Chief himself No other reference work exists in the area of Geomorphology that offers the breadth and depth of information contained in this 14 volume masterpiece From the foundations and history of geomorphology through to geomorphological innovations and computer modelling and the past and future states of landform science no stone has been left unturned Media, Conflict and Peacebuilding in Africa Jacinta Maweu,Admire Mare,2021-03-29 This book explores the role and place of popular traditional and digital media platforms in the mediatization representation and performance of various conflicts and peacebuilding interventions in the African context The role of the media in conflict is often depicted as either good as symbolized by peace journalism or bad as exemplified by war journalism but this book moves beyond this binary to highlight the in between role that the media often plays in times of conflict The volume does not only focus on the relationship between mass media conflict and peacebuilding processes but it broadens its scope by critically analysing the dynamic and emergent roles of popular and digital media platforms in a continent where the semi literate and oral communities still rely heavily on popular communication platforms to get news and information Whilst social media platforms have been hailed for their assumed democratic and digital dividends this book does not only focus on these positive aspects but also shines a light on dark forms of participation which are fuelling racial gender ethnic political and religious conflicts in highly polarized and stratified societies Highlighting the many ways in which traditional digital and popular media can be used to both escalate conflicts and promote peacebuilding this volume will be a useful resource for students researchers and civil society groups interested in peace and conflict studies journalism and media studies in different contexts within Africa

Governance and Transformations of Universities in Africa
Fredrick. M. Nafukho, Helen M. A. Muyia, Beverly Irby, 2014-06-01

While universities world over are undergoing reforms and change in the case of African universities as illustrated in this book the reforms and changes are profound and can best be described as transformative This book is unique in many ways which makes it extraordinary First unlike other books that have examined issues on higher education in Africa from externalist positions the contributors to this book are scholars who have been educated are currently teaching in African universities or have taught in African universities The book specifically focuses on transformations in the governance of African universities and its implications on equity entrepreneurship innovation quality assurance information and communication technologies ICTs and reform issues in higher education in Africa The book presents pertinent research on governance in African universities in an experiential and empirical manner The contributors of the book chapters include individuals actively involved in teaching researching and governance of higher education institutions in Africa The chapters are based on empirical data including review of relevant literature The book also recognizes that university governance is more than just crisis in financial or economic issues but includes best management practices shared governance meaningful reforms strategic planning consultation transparency and accountability client students lecturers parents and the public satisfaction as well as the role of the university in development The contributions take cognizance of the fact that governance as a concept is facing fundamental changes in the context of global knowledge economy and African local conditions Contributors also take cognizance of the fact that one important source of change in Africa has been the accelerating speed of scientific and technological advancement in learning at universities where lifelong learning programs adult learning programs distance and online learning are relatively new The chapters are also sensitive to new changes in gender demographical technological education reforms social and economic transformations in the governance of African universities The book is basically an academic book for use by undergraduates and graduate students at universities policy makers and formulators in African ministries of Education supra national
