The meritorious sixteen: An anthology of social and scientific poetry Sujay Rao Mandavilli,2025-05-11 Poetry in some way or the other and in some form or the other touches our daily lives in multiple and in myriad ways often beautifully and touchingly Poetry dates back to prehistoric times and has been found in diverse cultures and diverse regions of the world such as Asia Africa and Europe In a vast majority of cases formal written poetry branched out from oral poetic traditions and in some cases folk songs The oldest surviving epic poem known as the Epic of Gilgamesh dates from the third millennium before Christ in Sumer in Mesopotamia in present day Iraq and was written in cuneiform script on clay tablets and later on papyrus Loosely and crudely defined poetry is a form of literary art that uses aesthetic and rhythmic techniques to bring out deeper and hidden meanings and bring about a maximum emotional and psychological impact on the reader It can also be used to convey a deep and hidden meaning on a set of topics related to social cultural and scientific issues This as a matter of fact is a particular hallmark of social and scientific poetry This is what we deal with in this anthology of social and scientific poetry as we hope they create maximal impact on readers and gradually but willy nilly bring about social and cultural change in societies particularly emerging and developing ones This is a potential major use of poetry but has not been tapped into or realized fully and completely Some other forms of poetry are less serious and deal with other aspects such as love war and chivalry We do not deal with such classes and categories of poetry here Poets and poetry also make use of a wide variety of techniques called poetic devices such as alliteration onomatopoeia assonance rhythm euphony cacophony metre and sound symbolism in order to produce verse structure format symphony pleasant harmony musical or other acoustic and artistic effects There are many different forms of poetry such as epics limericks hymns Such as the ancient Indian Rig Veda and ballads some of them being unique trademarks of particular cultures or ethnic groups famous contemporary poets and poets of yore have included William Wordsworth Edgar Allan Poe William Blake Rudyard Kipling WH Auden and others Rumi was a famous non English Islamic poet and was an eminent and a very famous theologian to boot Homer s Illiad and Odyssey also stand out in this context Poetry continues to change and evolve in the twenty first century and traditional forms of poetry are being increasingly challenged We therefore are witnessing the birth of postmodernist and other schools of thought and these are essentially work in progress at this stage Poetry is also often read out in popular public audiences and is accompanied by music song drama and vibrant theatre We do not wish to get into all of them here but would hope anticipate and expect that readers enjoy and make best use of our poems The following are our meritorious sixteen from our perspective and these drive home the core and central mission of the globalization of science movement aptly and succinctly We hope that readers will not only enjoy them but will also take in and soak in their message 1 Man be not proud 2 Ideologies you shall come to naught 3 Obsolescence nothing escapes your wicked ways 4 Leave a legacy behind my dear friend 5 The power of independent thinking 6 Universal thinking and long term vision 7 Step aside and step away you Marxist historians your time is over 8 Wait with patience innovators your time shall come 9 Arise awake you youth take up the cause of science 10 Let us remember our heroes and treat with respect the worthy and the deserving 11 Why we need collectivism and collective action in societies 12 Let us create intellectual revolutions in developing countries 13 Let us unleash the raw power of pedagogy 14 Let us break away from the manacles of religion and instead become more spiritual 15 Let us enforce and realize human trusteeship of the planet 16 The Globalization of science theme poem Enjoy Free Action Andrew Wright

Hurley,2025-07-31 Advancing the New Jazz Studies by focusing on questions of intermediality and cultural catalysis this book demonstrates the role jazz played in the re making of West German culture in the post war era The shadow of National Socialism a history of German polarisation by jazz and the influences of occupation and division meant that jazz catalysed influential young creative artists These included writers such as Nobel Laureate G nter Grass Young German Cinema filmmakers like Hansj rgen Pohland and abstract visual artists like KRH Sonderborg Jazz provided an impulse to take into extra musical artforms and an impetus to reflect on what art and culture were Through considering poetry the novel photography film and television graphic design and the fine arts this volume reveals how German creatives were influenced not only by American jazz culture but also by cultural innovations from elsewhere and by German traditions they considered less compromised by the Nazi era The book also explores the limits of this catalysis examining for example how African Americans received the German representation of jazz culture Written in an accessible style this important contribution to New Jazz Studies and German Studies scholarship will appeal to both graduate and undergraduate students or researchers in the fields of jazz history twentieth century musicology and European or German cultural studies British Poetry, 1900-50 Gary Day, Brian Docherty, 1995-08-12 This collection focuses on British poetry from the Georgians to the Second World War The introduction provides the framework for the articles which follow by considering the question of the relation between poetry and society as it appears in the work of F R Leavis T W Adorno and Antony Easthope Written by experts the essays cover poetic movements and individual authors both mainstream and neglected and address the difficult problem of making value judgements while situating poetry in its historical context Creating Critical Research Poetry Maria K.
