What Kind of Democracy? Kateřina Vráblíková, 2016-08-12 The broad expansion of non electoral political participation is considered one of the major changes in the nature of democratic citizenship in the 21st century Most scholars but also governments transnational and subnational political institutions and various foundations have adopted the notion that contemporary democratic societies need a more politically active citizenry Yet contemporary democracies widely differ in the extent to which their citizens get involved in politics beyond voting Why is political activism other than voting flourishing in the United States but is less common in Britain and almost non-existent in post-communist countries like Bulgaria The book shows that the answer does not lie in citizens' predispositions, social capital or institutions of consensual democracy Instead, the key to understanding cross-country differences in political activism beyond voting rests in democratic structures that combine inclusiveness and contestation What Kind of Democracy is the first book to provide a theoretically driven empirical analysis of how different types of democratic arrangements affect individual participation in non-electoral politics

Youth Citizenship and the European Union Elvira Cicognani, Frosio Motti-Stefanidi, 2020-06-29 This book applies a number of different disciplinary and geographical perspectives to ascertain whether and how European youth identify with the EU, trust EU institutions and engage in EU issues It investigates the factors and processes that predict the different ways in which young Europeans engage or do not engage with social and political issues and become active European citizens The volume is based on results from the first two years of the Horizon 2020 CATCH EyoU project Constructing Active Citizenship with European Youth Policies Practices Challenges and Solutions It addresses different dimensions of active citizenship in the EU and different processes and contexts that explain the construction of youth active citizenship including societal level factors such as policy context and media interaction, level contexts such as school and family and individual level factors The final chapter emphasizes the impact of the current historical context on the development of young Europeans' civic identity and their understanding of the social and political reality With contributions from a variety of disciplines including psychology, political science, communications and education and spanning geographic contexts across Europe, this book will be of interest to researchers studying contemporary European youth and the construction of young people's identity This book was originally published as a special issue of the European Journal of Developmental Psychology Chapters 1 and 5 are available Open Access at <https://www.routledge.com/products/9780367236557>

Youth Civic and Political Engagement Martyn Barrett, Dimitra Pachi, 2019-02-01 What exactly is civic and political participation What factors influence young people's participation How can we encourage youth to actively participate in their own democracies Youth Civic and Political Engagement takes a multidisciplinary approach to answering these key questions, incorporating research in the fields of psychology, sociology, political science and education to explore the issues affecting youth civic and political engagement Drawing on evidence that has been obtained in many different national contexts and through multinational studies, this book provides a theoretical synthesis of this large and diverse body of research using an integrative multi-level ecological model of youth engagement to do so It identifies unresolved issues in the field and offers numerous suggestions for future research Youth Civic and Political Engagement is an invaluable resource for researchers, teachers, youth workers, civil society activists, policymakers and politicians who wish to acquire an up-to-date understanding of the factors and processes that influence young people's civic and political engagement and how to promote youth engagement Chapters 1, 2, 3 and 4 of this book are
