Poole S Paradise:

Poole's Index to Periodical Literature, 1888      Crime Fiction in the Caribbean Lucy Evans, 2024-09-18 Crime Fiction in the Caribbean Reframing Crime and Justice is the first academic book to focus on crime fiction by anglophone Caribbean writers It explores how contemporary writers experiment with the crime genre in order to convey contextualize and comment on crime and justice in Caribbean countries Lucy Evans reads crime fiction as a versatile mode of writing that can be politically engaged and that in a Caribbean context can expose power structures embedded in the region's multi layered history of colonial conquest genocide of Indigenous populations plantation agriculture transatlantic slavery and indentured labour This book covers fiction set in Trinidad and Tobago Jamaica Guyana Barbados Grenada and Haiti discussing novels by Elizabeth Nunez Jacob Ross Marlon James Harischandra Khemraj Esther Figueroa Edwidge Danticat Cherie Jones and several others Evans considers how fiction by anglophone Caribbean writers not only reflects upon the social realities of crime and crime control in the Caribbean but also at times contests or complicates scholarly popular and legal perspectives She argues that through their engagement with the crime genre these writers raise pressing questions about what constitutes crime and justice in a Caribbean context and about accountability Looking beyond the traditional focus of crime fiction and criminology on individual acts of wrongdoing their fiction highlights systemic social harms rooted in the region's colonial past Reading crime fiction through the lens of criminological research Crime Fiction in the Caribbean brings the study of literary writing into scholarly debate on crime in the Caribbean At the same time it extends the global turn in crime fiction studies focusing on a region that has been sidelined even in studies which examine the genre's international dimensions      Milton, Longinus, and the Sublime in the Seventeenth Century Thomas Matthew Vozar, 2024-03-07 In this wide ranging study in classical reception and the history of ideas Thomas Matthew Vozar shows how Milton's ideas of the sublime were informed by a deep understanding of Longinus and other ancient sources The book also demonstrates how Longinus's ideas and writings were far more prevalent in early modern England than previously thought      The Worldmakers Ayesha Ramachandran, 2015-10-13 In this beautifully conceived book Ayesha Ramachandran reconstructs the imaginative struggles of early modern artists philosophers and writers to make sense of something that we take for granted the world imagined as a whole Once a new exciting and frightening concept the world was transformed in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries But how could one envision something that no one had ever seen in its totality The Worldmakers moves beyond histories of globalization to explore how the world itself variously understood as an object of inquiry a comprehensive category and a system of order was self consciously shaped by human agents Gathering an international cast of characters from Dutch cartographers and French philosophers to Portuguese and English poets Ramachandran describes a history of firsts the first world atlas the first global epic the first modern attempt to develop a systematic natural philosophy all part of an effort by early modern thinkers to capture the world on the page      Arenas of Conflict Kristin Pruitt

McColgan, Charles W. Durham, 1997 The nineteen essays in this collection explore such varied fields of argument as John Milton's authorship of the Christian Doctrine his adaptations of source material his engagement in political controversies his attitudes toward gender in Paradise Lost and Samson Agonistes and his reflection of seventeenth century obstetrics and anticipation of modern chaos theory in Paradise Lost In their sometimes complementary sometimes contradictory and consistently interrogative views of Milton and his work these essays offer an arena of conflict for future studies
