Janssen, 2019-08-06 There are well over one hundred different views of the nature of human existence though the Bible may rule out many of these there still remains a large number that are all compatible with Scripture The Bible never explicitly defines the nature of the soul or spirit which is actually quite puzzling or even ironic given that one major aim of Scripture is spiritual development and ultimate questions about the soul In fact Judeo Christian thinking on those questions has been evolving over the course of four thousand years This book documents that evolution as a man named Abram left Babylon four thousand years ago journeying through the lands and the philosophies of civilizations preceding him by many more thousands of years while he and his descendants both physical and spiritual unpacked their understanding of our inner being the human soul and the afterlife That journey is followed to the present day and examines how a critically thinking Christian can embrace a theology of the human soul that is fully compatible with modern scientific findings including explanations for consciousness mind and soul The Oxford Handbook of Systematic Theology John Webster, Kathryn Tanner, Iain

Torrance, 2009-09-10 The Oxford Handbook of Systematic Theology brings together a set of original and authoritative accounts of all the major areas of current research in Christian systematic theology offering a thorough survey of the state of the discipline and of its prospects for those undertaking research and teaching in the field The Handbook engages in a comprehensive examination of themes and approaches guiding the reader through current debates and literatures in the context of the historical development of systematic theological reflection Organized thematically it treats in detail the full array of topics in systematic theology as well as questions of its sources and norms its relation to other theological and non theological fields of enquiry and some major trends in current work Each chapter provides an analysis of research and debate on its topic The focus is on doctrinal rather than historical questions and on major rather than ephemeral debates The aim is to stimulate readers to reach theological judgements on the basis of consideration of the range of opinion Drawn from Europe the UK and North America the authors are all leading practitioners of the discipline Readers will find expert guidance as well as creative suggestions about the future direction of the study of Christian doctrine

Ricoeur and the Third Discourse of the Person Michael T. H. Wong, 2018-10-25 This book is about the so called 4S challenge how does or can or should someone say something to someone about something This challenge is getting more intense day by day in our contemporary globalized world increasingly connected by science and technology through telecommunication and all sorts of social media where people are acutely aware of the diverse views on culture politics economics religion ethics education physical health and mental wellbeing which are very often in conflicts with each other This book arises from the reading of the dialogue between two internationally renowned and respected French scholars Jean Pierre Changeux and Paul Ricoeur What Makes Us Think A Neuroscientist and a Philosopher Argue about Ethics Human Nature and the Brain which explores where science and philosophy meet and whether there is a place for religion in the 21st century This book develops on the ideas Ricoeur raised in the dialogue about the need for digging deeper and a third discourse as a way forward to improve dialogues between competing worldviews and ideologies It attempts to formulate a third discourse as distinct from ordinary language as first discourse and various scientific or professional specialist languages as second discourse to address the burning issue of fragmentation of the person through overcoming the alienations between established discourses of philosophy science and theology without doing injustice to the unique and indispensable contributions of each of these discourses It argues that such a third discourse has to go beyond dualism and reductionism To achieve that this new way of talking about the lived experience of the person is going to take the form of a non reductive correlative multilayered discourse that has the capacity to as expressed in the language of the hermeneutics of Ricoeur explain more in order to understand better

Spirituality is a Science Bahram Elahi, 1999 Faith and reason belief and experimentation spirituality and science in our modern era we have come to view these concepts as inherently dichotomous How can spirituality be considered a science when the very foundation of modern science was established in contrast or even in opposition to certain systems of thought inherited from religious traditions Through a series of innovative and thought provoking studies Dr Bahram Elahi redefines spirituality as an experimental science rooted in concrete and empirically verifiable realities

Human Nature and Politics in Utopian and Anti-Utopian Fiction Nivedita Bagchi, 2018-10-15 While the interest in anti utopias has exploded over the years issues of human nature rarely make it into the discussion of these works of literature Yet conceptions of human nature play a key role in both the utopian belief that the perfect political system can be achieved and in the anti utopian conviction that an ideal state is neither possible nor desirable and would simply lead to a repressive state This book examines two well known utopias and two anti utopias to draw out their conceptions of human nature and show that these conceptions are directly related to their views on politics It shows that utopians emphasize that human nature is knowable predictable and therefore open to manipulation and or suppression Anti utopians on the other hand make the claim that human nature is not entirely knowable or predictable While they worry about the power of the state to manipulate human nature they also make the case that the natural recalcitrance and unpredictability of human beings would lead inevitably to a search for freedom and individuality and therefore to a clash between the state and the individual in the supposedly ideal state Ultimately therefore these anti utopians suggest a new conception of human beings as people who value the power to choose their own ends and are unable to entirely suppress their desire for freedom These two conceptions of human nature lead to two dramatically different conceptions of politics Utopians see the possibility of manipulating human nature to create an ideal political system which synthesizes all political values and issues while anti utopians reject both the possibility and desirability of an ideal political system and make the case for providing freedom of choice for all people Emotional Cities Joseph Ben

Prestel,2017-09-01 Emotional Cities offers an innovative account of the history of cities in the second half of the nineteenth century Analyzing debates about emotions and urban change it questions the assumed dissimilarity of the history of European and Middle Eastern cities during this period The author shows that between 1860 and 1910 contemporaries in both Berlin and Cairo began to negotiate the transformation of the urban realm in terms of emotions Looking at the ways in which a variety of urban dwellers from psychologists to bar maids framed recent changes in terms of their effect on love honor or disgust the book reveals striking parallels between the histories of the two cities By combining urban history and the history of emotions Prestel proposes a new perspective on the emergence of different yet comparable cities at the end of the nineteenth century

The Oxford Handbook of Religion and Science Philip Clayton,Zachary Simpson,2006 The field of science and religion is exploding in popularity among both academics and the reading public This is a comprehensive and authoritative introduction to the debate written by the leading experts yet accessible to the general reader The Spiritual

Soul Matthew J. Churchouse,2024-04-30 What is the human soul What does it do How does it relate to the brain and body What is happening in the soul when a person encounters the Holy Spirit These are some of the questions addressed in The Spiritual Soul as it advances towards its overall goal of proposing a re new ed Pentecostal Charismatic understanding of what constitutes a human being In pursuing this overarching intention Churchouse responds to the anthropology of two leading Pentecostal scholars Amos Yong and Veli Matti K rkk inen specifically their theological models concerning what a human is constituted essentially made up of to offer an enhanced Pentecostal model in preference to their monistic view Drawing upon the sources of biblical studies the philosophy of mind and upon the pneumatology that flows from Pentecostal spirituality

Churchouse advances a renewed understanding of the human soul one illumined by the spirit and the Spirit to engender his distinctive Pentecostal model of human constitution Theological Neuroethics Neil Messer,2017-10-19 Neil Messer brings together a range of theoretical and practical questions raised by current research on the human brain questions about both the ethics of neuroscience and the neuroscience of ethics While some of these are familiar to theologians others have been more or less ignored hitherto and the field of neuroethics as a whole has received little theological attention Drawing on both theological ethics and the science and theology field Messer discusses cognitive scientific and neuroscientific studies of religion arguing that they do not give grounds to dismiss theological perspectives on the human self He examines a representative range of topics across the whole field of neuroethics including consciousness the self and the value of human life the neuroscience of morality determinism freewill and moral responsibility and the ethics of cognitive enhancement

Green,2010-11-01 Why A Search for the Soul Many Christians assume that it is biblically faithful and theologically noncontroversial to speak of humans having a soul Yet a wide range of biblical scholars are questioning whether we have correctly understood what the Bible means when it speaks of the soul And contemporary neuroscience is laying more and more questions at the doorstep of the church asking whether our human sense of self is intelligible on the basis of soul But for thoughtful Christians following science on this point looks like caving in to reductionism while denying science gives off the door of obscurantism In Search of the Soul provides a rare opportunity to listen in as four Christian philosophers set forth their best arguments for their distinct views and then respond to each other While each of these views calls for careful framing and patient exposition they are labeled as follows SUBSTANCE DUALISM Stewart Goetz EMERGENT DUALISM William Hasker NONREDUCTIVE PHYSICALISM Nancey Murphy CONSTITUTION VIEW OF PERSONS Kevin Corcoran The editor introduces the debate by laying out the critical issues at stake and wraps it up by considering the implications for the Christian life particularly hospitality and forgiveness This is a book of timely interest to philosophers theologians psychologists and pastors Whatever conclusions readers may draw they will find here an instructive and engaging discussion of a controversy that will not go away any time soon The Human Body: The Machine That Moves the Soul DIZZY DAVIDSON,2025-04-09 If you re curious about how your body works determined to boost your health and vitality or simply fascinated by the wonders of human biology THEN THIS BOOK IS FOR YOU Dive into the extraordinary miracle that is the
