Virginia Woolf, 2024-02-22 A Room of One's Own is an extended essay by Virginia Woolf first published on the 24th of October 1929. The essay was based on a series of lectures she delivered at Newnham College and Girton College, two women's colleges at Cambridge University, in October 1928. While this extended essay in fact employs a fictional narrator and narrative to explore women both as writers and characters in fiction, the manuscript for the delivery of the series of lectures titled Women and Fiction and hence the essay are considered nonfiction. The essay is seen as a feminist text and is noted in its argument for both a literal and figural space for women writers within a literary tradition dominated by patriarchy. Three guineas: The author received three separate requests for a gift of one guinea: one for a women's college building fund, one for a society promoting the employment of professional women, and one to help prevent war and protect culture and intellectual liberty. This book is a threefold answer to these requests and a statement of feminine purpose. Rooms with a View

Giancarlo Lombardi, 2002 In tracing the individual struggles encountered by each single diarist, Lombardi presents as a result of the juxtaposition of so many different texts a wider portrayal of women's struggles across five decades and four different national cultures. BOOK JACKET The Upper Room Disciplines 2026, 2025-09-01 The bestselling 365-day devotional that follows the Revised Common Lectionary. Letters to Another Room Ravil Bukharaev, 2025-10-01

This is a beautiful translation by John Farndon with Olga Nakston of the late Ravil Bukharaev's literary existential novel memoir in which he explains to his wife how his Muslim faith and ideals influenced both his love for her and his understanding of life and self, particularly his quest for truth and authenticity. Throughout their long marriage, the writers and poets Ravil Bukharaev and Lydia Grigorieva had written in separate rooms in their home. In this deeply felt and poetic memoir, Ravil writes to Lydia in order to try explain at last things left unsaid over the years. With immense honesty and insight, he explores how their journey together has been shaped by his profound Muslim beliefs and his lifelong search for what is authentic and true. Along the way, he creates finely defined and moving vignettes of eight very different people struggling to find meaning in their lives: from old Elizaveta Osipovna alone in her Moscow flat to proud Arzhana coping with a tough life in the Altai mountains.

The Dolls' Room Llorenç Villalonga,2010-11-16 A classic of contemporary Catalan literature and a haunting and satirical portrait of a vanishing age Lloren Villalonga's The Dolls Room concerns the decline of Don Toni and Dona Maria Antonia Bearn aristocrats cousins husband and wife and members of the decadent age old ruling class of the town that bears their name Their story is told by the naïve family priest Don Joan who was taken under Don Toni's wing as a schoolboy Describing the shabby grandeur of his benefactors lives their ancient rundown family mansion their grand but ruinous excursions to Paris and Rome and the mysterious events that lead to their deaths the humbly devout Joan is continually challenged and perhaps titillated by Don Toni's impious personality his defiance of church authority and his scandalous affairs Partly condemning and partly admiring his devilish mentor the pure minded Don Joan's lurid biography of the Bearn's is a testament to the eternal attractiveness of the libertine and the lengths to which we go in justifying our own worst impulses The Bible's Cutting Room Floor Joel M. Hoffman,2014-09-02 There's more to the story A scholar and translator reveals the history of the Bible and the parts that were left out by accident or design The Bible you usually read is not the complete story Some holy writings were left out for political or theological reasons others simply because of the physical restrictions of ancient bookmaking technology At times the compilers of the Bible skipped information that they assumed everyone knew Some passages were even omitted by accident In The Bible's Cutting Room Floor acclaimed translator Dr Joel M Hoffman gives us the stories and other texts that didn't make it into the Bible even though they offer penetrating insight into the Bible and its teachings The Book of Genesis tells us about Adam and Eve's time in the Garden of Eden but not their saga after they get kicked out or the lessons they have for us about good and evil The Bible introduces us to Abraham but it doesn't include the troubling story of his early life which explains how he came to reject idolatry to become the father of monotheism And while there are only 150 Psalms in today's Bible there used to be many more Dr Hoffman deftly brings these and other ancient scriptural texts to life exploring how they offer new answers to some of the most fundamental and universal questions people ask about their lives An impressive blend of history linguistics and religious scholarship The Bible's Cutting Room Floor reveals what's missing from your Bible who left it out and why it is so important Hoffman also provides an accessible and entertaining history of the context in which the rejected works arose a fascinating account of how the Dead Sea Scrolls came to light in the mid 20th century and what they include an analysis of Josephus s contributions to history and the relationship between the Septuagint the Greek translation of the Bible and the Hebrew Scriptures Publishers Weekly A wonderful book to confirm the beliefs of the faithful to strengthen those whose faith begs for more information and to enlighten those who reject the stories of the Bible as mere fiction Kirkus Reviews
