Rosa And Blanca Story:

Do the Blind Dream? Barry Gifford, 2011-01-04 Do the Blind Dream shows Gifford at the height of his powers navigating with ease the new more fragmented imaginative landscape of morning after America Gifford seems to have anticipated themes that suddenly are recognizable everywhere the fragility of identity the power of coincidence the illusion of a secure tomorrow In contrast to his often nightmarish satirical groundbreaking novels of the 1990s Wild at Heart Perdita Durango and Night People among them Do the Blind Dream continues in the tender and deeply introspective vein revealed in two recent works Gifford's memoir The Phantom Father named a New York Times Notable Book and the award winning novella Wyoming From the intimate stylistically daring examination of the darkest secrets in the history of an Italian family to the terrible but often beautiful fears and discoveries of childhood to the sardonic desperate confusion of adult life Do the Blind Dream reveals an exceptionally versatile highly tuned sensibility History of Spanish Literature George Ticknor, 1864

The History of German Literature on Film Christiane Schönfeld, 2023-06-15 A 2024 CHOICE OUTSTANDING ACADEMIC TITLE This book tells the story of German language literature on film beginning with pioneering motion picture adaptations of Faust in 1897 and early debates focused on high art as mass culture. It explores, analyzes, and contextualizes the so-called golden age of silent cinema in the 1920s, the impact of sound on adaptation practices, the abuse of literary heritage by Nazi filmmakers, and traces the role of German language literature in exile and postwar films across ideological boundaries in divided Germany in New German Cinema and in remakes and movies for cinema as well as television and streaming services in the 21st century. Having provided the narrative core to thousands of films since the late 19th century, many of German cinema's most influential masterpieces were inspired by canonical texts, popular plays, and even children's literature. Not being restricted to German adaptations, however, this book also traces the role of literature originally written in German in international film productions, which sheds light on the interrelation between cinema and key historical events. It outlines how processes of adaptation are shaped by global catastrophes and the emergence of nations, by materialist conditions, liberal economies, and capitalist imperatives, political agendas, the mobility of individuals, and sometimes by the desire to create reflective surfaces and perhaps even art. Commercial cinema's adaptation practices have foregrounded economic interest, but numerous filmmakers throughout cinema history have turned to German language literature not simply to entertain but as a creative contribution to the public sphere, marking adaptation practice at least potentially as a form of active citizenship. The Encyclopedia of Film James Monaco, 1991 An alphabetical reference on the major film figures: stars, producers, directors, writers, et al. past and present.
