(Re)imagining the World Yan Wu, Kerry Mallan, Roderick McGillis, 2013-06-18 Re Imagining the world Children's Literature's Response to Changing Times considers how writers of fiction for children imagine the world not one universal world but different worlds imaginary strange familiar even monstrous worlds The chapters in this collection discuss how fiction for children engages with some of the changes brought about by new technologies information literacy consumerism migration politics different family structures cosmopolitanism new and old monsters They also invite us to think about how memory shapes our understanding of the past and how fiction engages our emotions our capacity to empathise and our desire to discover and what the future may hold The contributors bring different perspectives from education postcolonial studies literary criticism cultural studies childhood studies postmodernism and the social sciences With a wide coverage of texts from different countries and scholarly and lively discussions this collection is itself a testament to the power of the human imagination and the significance of children's literature in the education of young people Translating Canada Luise von Flotow, Reingard M. Nischik, 2007-10-25 In the last thirty years of the twentieth century Canadian federal governments offered varying degrees of support for literary and other artistic endeavour. A corollary of this patronage of culture at home was an effort to make the resulting works available for audiences elsewhere in the world. Current developments in the study of translation and its influence as cultural transfer have made possible new assessments of such efforts to project a national image abroad. Translating Canada examines cultural materials exported by Canada in addition to those selected for acquisition by German publishers, theatres and other culture brokers. It also considers the motivations of particular translators and the reception by German reviewers of works by a wide variety of Canadian writers: novelists and poets, playwrights and children's authors, literary and social critics. Above all, the book maps for its readers a number of significant though frequently unsuspected roles that translation assumes in the intercultural negotiation of national images and values. The chapters in this collection will be of value to students, teachers and scholars in a number of fields. Informed lay readers too will appreciate the author's insights into the different ways in which translation has contributed to German reception of Canadian books and culture. Translating Canada examines cultural materials exported by Canada in addition to those selected for acquisition by German publishers, theatres and other culture brokers. It also considers the motivations of particular translators and the reception by German reviewers of works by a wide variety of Canadian writers. Published in English.

Contemporary Authors Scot Peacock, Terrie M. Rooney, 1998-10. Your students and users will find biographical information on approximately 300 modern writers in this volume of Contemporary Authors. R. Authors in this volume include Diane Arbus, Nina Kiriki Hoffman, Michael Moore.

The Governor General's Literary Awards of Canada Andrew David Irvine, 2018-11-27. The definitive bibliography of Canada's Governor General's Literary Awards. Alice Munro, Michael Ondaatje, Margaret Atwood, Antonine Maillet, Carol Shields, Marie-Claire Blais, Gilles Vigneault. For over three quarters of a century the Governor General's Literary Awards have been instrumental in recognizing many of Canada's best authors, illustrators and translators. The result is impressive: between 1936 and 2017, 705 titles have been recognized with this prestigious award. With careful attention to detail, Andrew Irvine presents the history and evolution of the Awards and extols their importance for the careers of authors, illustrators and translators as well as for the development of Canada's national literature. The heart of the book contains the first comprehensive bibliography of the awards, including the first list of winning books organized according to their historically correct award categories, information about five books wrongly omitted from previous lists of winning titles, detailed information about award ceremonies, film adaptations and jury members, and other key information. This is a seminal work that belongs on the shelf of every scholar and every lover of Canadian literature. This book is published in English.
