Animals into Art Howard Morphy, 2014-10-30 This book is one of a series of volumes resulting from the World Archaeological Congress September 1986 which addressed world archaeology in its widest sense investigating how people lived in the past and how and why changes took place to result in the forms of society and culture which exist now The series brought together archaeologists and anthropologists from many parts of the world academics from contingent disciplines and also non academics from a wide range of cultural backgrounds who could lend their own expertise to the discussions This book is an exploration of the way in which the animal world features in the works of art of a variety of cultures of different times and places Contributors have adopted a variety of perspectives for looking at the complex ways in which past and present humans have interrelated with beings they classify as animals Some of the approaches are predominantly economic and ecological some are symbolic and others philosophical or theological All these different views are included in the interpretation of the artworks of the past revealing some of the foci and inspirations of cultural attitudes to animals Originally published 1989

The Routledge Companion to Ecstatic Experience in the Ancient World Diana Stein, Sarah Kielt Costello, Karen Polinger Foster, 2021-12-30 For millennia people have universally engaged in ecstatic experience as an essential element in ritual practice spiritual belief and cultural identification This volume offers the first systematic investigation of its myriad roles and manifestations in the ancient Mediterranean and Near East The twenty nine contributors represent a broad range of scholarly disciplines seeking answers to fundamental questions regarding the patterns and commonalities of this vital aspect of the past How was the experience construed and by what means was it achieved Who was involved Where and when were rites carried out How was it reflected in pictorial arts and written records What was its relation to other components of the sociocultural compact In proposing responses the authors draw upon a wealth of original research in many fields generating new perspectives and thought provoking often surprising conclusions With their abundant cross cultural and cross temporal references the chapters mutually enrich each other and collectively deepen our understanding of ecstatic phenomena thousands of years ago Another noteworthy feature of the book is its illustrative content including commissioned reconstructions of ecstatic scenarios and pairings of works of Bronze Age and modern psychedelic art Scholars students and other readers interested in antiquity comparative religion and the social and cognitive sciences will find much to explore in the fascinating realm of ecstatic experience in the ancient world

Animals in the Ancient World from A to Z Kenneth F. Kitchell Jr., 2014-06-23 The ancient Greeks and Romans lived in a world teeming with animals Animals were integral to ancient commerce war love literature and art Inside the city they were found as pets pests and parasites They could be sacred sacrificed liminal workers or intruders from the wild Beyond the city domesticated animals were herded and bred for profit and wild animals were hunted for pleasure and gain alike Specialists like Aristotle Aelian Pliny and Seneca studied their anatomy and behavior Geographers and travelers described new lands in terms of their animals Animals are to be seen on every possible artistic medium woven into cloth and inlaid into furniture They are the subject of proverbs oaths and dreams Magicians physicians and lovers turned to animals and their parts for their crafts They paraded before kings inhabited palaces and entertained the poor in the arena Quite literally animals pervaded the ancient world from A Z In entries ranging from short to long Kenneth Kitchell offers insight into this commonly overlooked world covering representative and intriguing examples of mammals reptiles amphibians and invertebrates Familiar animals such as the cow dog fox and donkey are treated along with more exotic animals such as the babirusa pangolin and dugong The evidence adduced ranges from Minoan times to the Late Roman Empire and is taken from archaeology ancient authors inscriptions papyri coins mosaics and all other artistic media Whenever possible reasoned identifications are given for ancient animal names and the realities behind animal lore are brought forth Why did the ancients think hippopotamuses practiced blood letting on themselves How do you catch a monkey Why were hyenas thought to be hermaphroditic Was there really a vampire moth Entries are accompanied by full citations to ancient authors and an extensive bibliography Of use to Classics students and scholars but written in a style designed to engage anyone interested in Greco Roman antiquity Animals in the Ancient World from A to Z reveals the extent and importance of the animal world to the ancient Greeks and Romans It answers many questions asks several more and seeks to stimulate further research in this important field The Lower Niger Bronzes Philip M. Peek, 2020-07-27 This book demonstrates that copper alloy casting was widespread in southern Nigeria and has been practiced for at least a millennium Philip M Peek s research provides a critical context for the better known casting traditions of Igbo Ukwu Ife and Benin Both the necessary ores and casting skills were widely available contrary to previous scholarly assumptions The majority of the Lower Niger Bronzes which we know number in the thousands are of subjects not found elsewhere such as leopard skull replicas grotesque bell heads ritual objects and humanoid figures Important puzzle pieces are now in place to permit a more complete reconstruction of southern Nigerian history The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history African studies African history and anthropology Perceiving Animals NA NA, 2016-04-30 When we look at the human understanding of beasts in the past what we see are not only the foundations of our own perception of animals but humans contemplating their own status Perceiving Animals argues that what is revealed in a wide range of writing from the early modern period is a recurring attempt to separate the human from the beast Looking at the representation of the animal in law religious writings literary representation science and political ideas what emerges is a sense of the fragility of humanity a sense of a species which always requires an external addition property civilisation education mastery of the natural world to be fully human Erica Fudge engages with both canonical and non canonical texts from the period 1558 1649 and examines previously unchallenged aspects of the status of humanity what does it mean to own an animal How does civilisation take place and what does this tell us about uncivilised man What does the humanist emphasis on education mean for the uneducated Does science ever offer humanity separation from the beast Texts by writers including Edward Coke Ben Jonson Francis Bacon and Richard Overton are re examined and the status of humanity comes under question Perceiving Animals argues that within early modern English culture there is an uncomfortable sense of humanity with a superiority which is not innate but dangerously unnatural British Books in Print ,1985 Animal Sightings Jodi Cranston,2024-10-08 Animal Sightings challenges two common ideas about the depiction of animals in early modern European court art first that the human figure relegated animals to peripheral and often symbolic roles both compositionally and conceptually and second that the representation of animals during this period was predominantly tied to a growing interest in naturalism derived from scientific study and discovery Art historian Jodi Cranston considers the diversity of art representing animals common to that time and place including dogs stags falcons and even insects She discusses how early modern European courts primarily in northern Italy Tyrol Saxony and southern Germany where the preponderance of European courtly activity related to animals occurred acquired and kept living animals sponsored hunts in purpose cultivated forests and fostered trade in animal products The diverse works created by artists associated with those courts reveal an ambivalent and complex view of animals as beings who shared and shaped the world alongside humans Ultimately Animal Sightings explores how early modern artists and viewers thought about human animal interactions how visual representation facilitated and inhibited knowledge about animals and how animals could reveal the limits and possibilities of visual representation It should be of special interest to scholars of early modern studies art history and animal studies

Disability Studies and the Classical Body Ellen Adams,2021-05-13 By triangulating the Greco Roman world classical reception and disability studies this book presents a range of approaches that reassess and reimagine traditional themes from the narrative voice to sensory studies It argues that disability and disabled people are the forgotten other of not just Classics but also the Humanities more widely Beyond the moral merits of rectifying this neglect this book also provides a series of approaches and case studies that demonstrate the intellectual value of engaging with disability studies as classicists and exploring the classical legacy in the medical humanities The book is presented in four parts Communicating and controlling impairment illness and pain Using creating and showcasing disability supports and services Real bodies and retrieving senses disability in the ritual record and Classical reception as the gateway between Classics and disability studies Chapters by scholars from different academic backgrounds are carefully paired in these sections in order to draw out further contrasts and nuances and produce a sum that is more than the parts The volume also explores how the ancient world and its reception have influenced medical and disability literature and how engagements with disabled people might lead to reinterpretations of familiar case studies such as the Parthenon This book is primarily intended for classicists interested in disabled people in the Greco Roman past and in how modern disability studies may offer insights into and reinterpretations of historic case studies It will also be of interest to those working in medical humanities sensory studies and museum studies and those exploring the wider tension between representation and reality in ancient contexts As such it will appeal to people in the wider Humanities who notwithstanding any interest in how disabled people are represented in literature art and cinema have had less engagement with disability studies and the lived experience of people with impairments FREE CHAPTER AVAILABLE Please go to <https://bit.ly/3pzpO7n> to access the Introduction which we have made freely available

What are the Animals to Us? David Aftandilian, 2007 In What Are the Animals to Us scholars from a wide variety of academic disciplines explore the diverse meanings of animals in science religion folklore literature and art

Humans and Other Animals in the Middle Ages Philip Line, 2025-03-10 This sourcebook serves both as an introduction and a wide ranging reference work for human attitudes to nonhuman animals in Latin Europe during the Middle Ages Under twelve headings it includes numerous translated passages from Latin and vernacular texts that reflect human conceptions and uses of other animals during the period 300-1520 Theologians philosophers encyclopaedists bestiarists hagiographers chroniclers huntsmen and writers of agricultural manuals cookbooks and plague treatises all had something to say about the place of nonhuman animals in their world and their interaction with humans or simply recorded incidentally what they did in their writings All are represented here

Birds in Roman Life and Myth Ashleigh Green, 2023-03-03 This book explores the place of birds in Roman myth and everyday life focusing primarily on the transitional period of 100 BCE to 100 CE within the Italian peninsula A diverse range of topics is considered in order to build a broad overview of the subject Beginning with an appraisal of omens augury and auspices including the sacred chickens consulted by generals before battle it goes on to examine how Romans farmed birds hunted them and kept them as pets It demonstrates how the ownership and consumption of birds were used to communicate status and prestige and how bird consumption mirrored wider economic and social trends Each topic adopts an interdisciplinary approach considering literary evidence alongside art material culture zooarchaeology and modern ornithological knowledge The inclusion of zooarchaeology adds another dimension to the work and highlights the value of using animals and faunal remains to interpret the past Studying the Roman view of birds offers great insight into how they conceived of their relationship with the gods and how they stratified and organised their society This book is a valuable resource for bird lovers and researchers alike particularly those studying animals in the ancient world

Pastoral Cosmopolitanism in Edith Wharton's Fiction Margarida Cadima, 2023-07-11 American novelist Edith Wharton 1862-1937 is best known today for her tales of the city and the experiences of patrician New Yorkers in the Gilded Age This book pushes against the grain of critical orthodoxy by prioritizing other species of spaces in Wharton's work For example how do Wharton's narratives represent the organic profusion of external nature Does the current scholarly fascination with the environmental humanities reveal previously unexamined or overlooked facets of Wharton s craft I propose that what is most striking about her narrative practice is how she utilizes adapts and translates pastoral tropes conventions and concerns to twentieth century American actualities It is no accident that Wharton portrays characters returning to or exploring various natural localities such as private gardens public parks chic mountain resorts monumental ruins or country estate follies Such encounters and adventures prompt us to imagine new relationships with various geographies and the lifeforms that can be found there The book addresses a knowledge gap in Wharton and the environmental humanities especially recent debates in ecocriticism The excavation of Wharton s words and the background of her narratives with an eye to offering an ecocritical reading of her work is what the book focuses on

Play Among Books Miro Roman,Alice _ch3n81,2021-12-06 How does coding change the way we think about architecture This question opens up an important research perspective In this book Miro Roman and his AI Alice_ch3n81 develop a playful scenario in which they propose coding as the new literacy of information They convey knowledge in the form of a project model that links the fields of architecture and information through two interwoven narrative strands in an infinite flow of real books Focusing on the intersection of information technology and architectural formulation the authors create an evolving intellectual reflection on digital architecture and computer science

Routledge Library Editions Archaeology Animals Into Art: Bestsellers in 2023 The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous engrossing novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have charmed audiences this year. Routledge Library Editions Archaeology Animals Into Art : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This heartfelt tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This spellbinding historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Pape, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is an exceptional and gripping novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
