Routes Travel And Translation In The Late Twentieth Century Paperback:

Routes James Clifford, 1997-04-21 When culture makes itself at home in motion where does an anthropologist stand Clifford offers a new view of anthropology It is he says a moving picture of a world that reveals itself en route In this collage of essays meditations poems and travel reports Clifford takes travel and translation as openings into a complex modernity

American Borders Paula Barba Guerrero, Mónica Fernández Jiménez, 2023-11-15 American Borders Inclusion and Exclusion in US Culture provides an overview of American culture produced in a range of contexts from the founding of the nation to the age of globalization and neoliberalism in order to understand the diverse literary landscapes of the United States from a twenty first century perspective The authors confront American exceptionalism discourses on freedom and democracy and US foundational narratives by reassessing the literary canon and exploring ethnic literature culture and film with a focus on identity and exclusion Their contributions envision different manifestations of conviviality and estrangement and deconstruct neoliberal slogans analyzing hospitable inclusion in relation to national history and ideologies By looking at representations of foreignness and conditional belonging in literature and film from different ethnic traditions the volume fleshes out a new border dialectic that conveys the heterogeneity of American boundaries beyond the opposition inside

Travel Writing and Empire Steven H. Clark, 1999 Travel writing has become central to postcolonial studies This book provides an introduction to the genre particularly to its dynamics of power and representation and the degree to which it has promoted ideologies of empire The book combines detailed evaluations of major contemporary models of analysis new historicism travelling theory and post colonial studies with a series of specific studies detailing the complicity of the genre with a history of violent incursion from Columbus reports from the New World through to the nomadism of postmodern travelogue Among its particular areas of concern are Othering discourses of cannibalism and infanticide the production of colonial knowledge geographic medicinal zoological the role of sexual anxiety in the construction of the gendered travelling body the interplay between imperial and domestic spheres reappropriation of alien discourse by indigenous cultures Post colonial studies has concentrated on travellers as conduits of erasure and appropriation This book resists the temptation to think in terms of a simple monolithic Eurocentrism and offers a more complex reading of texts produced before during and after periods of imperial ascendancy In doing so it provides a more nuanced account of the hegemonic functions of travel writing As such it is necessary reading for students and academics of cultural studies literary theory anthropology and history

Travelling Home, 'Walkabout Magazine' and Mid-Twentieth-Century Australia Mitchell Rolls, Anna Johnston, 2016-07-06 Travelling Home provides a detailed analysis of the contribution that the mid twentieth century Walkabout magazine made to Australia's cultural history Spanning five central decades of the twentieth century 1934 1974 Walkabout was integral to Australia's sense of itself as a nation By advocating travel both vicarious and actual Walkabout encouraged settler Australians to broaden their image of the nation and its place in the Pacific region In this way Walkabout explicitly aimed to make its readers feel at home in their country as well as including a diverse picture of Aboriginal and Pacific cultures Given its wide availability and distribution together with its accessible and entertaining content Walkabout changed how Australia was perceived and the magazine is recalled with nostalgic fondness by most if not all of its former readers Drawing on interdisciplinary scholarship Travelling Home engages with key questions in literary cultural and Australian studies about national identity and modernity The book's diverse topics demonstrate how Walkabout canvassed subtle and shifting fields of representation as a result this analysis produces complex and nuanced readings of Australian literary and cultural history

Bad Marxism John Hutnyk, 2004-06-20 Cultural Studies commonly claims to be a radical discipline This book thinks that's a bad assessment Cultural theorists love to toy with Marx but critical thinking seems to fall into obvious traps After an introduction which explains why the Marxism of the academy is unrecognisable and largely unrecognised in anti capitalist struggles Bad Marxism provides detailed analyses of Cultural Studies cherished moves by holding fieldwork archives empires hybrids and exchange up against the practical criticism of anti capitalism Engaging with the work of key thinkers Jacques Derrida James Clifford Gayatri Spivak Georges Bataille Homi Bhabha Michael Hardt and Toni Negri Hutnyk concludes by advocating an open Marxism that is both pro party and pro critique while being neither dogmatic nor dull

Between Two Fires Justin Quinn, 2015-09-10 Between Two Fires is about the transnational movement of poetry during the Cold War Beginning in the 1950s it examines transnational engagements across the Iron Curtain reassessing US poetry through a consideration of overlooked radical poets of the mid century and then asking what such transactions tell us about the way that anglophone culture absorbed new models during this period The Cold War synchronized culture across the globe leading to similar themes forms and critical maneuvers Poetry a discourse routinely figured as distant from political concerns was profoundly affected by the ideological pressures of the period But beyond such mirroring there were many movements across the Iron Curtain despite the barriers of cultural and language difference state security surveillance spies traitors and translators Justin Quinn shows how such factors are integral to transnational cultural movements during this period and have influenced even postwar anglophone poetry that is thematically distant from the Cold War For the purposes of the study Czech poetry its writers its translators its critics stands on the other side of the Iron Curtain as receptor and which has been overlooked part creator of the anglophone tradition in this period By stepping outside the frameworks by which anglophone poetry is usually considered we see figures such as Robert Lowell Derek Walcott Allen Ginsberg and Seamus Heaney in a new way with respect to the ideological mechanisms that were at work behind the promotion of the aesthetic as a category independent of political considerations foremost among these postcolonial theory
