VHS1100 User's Manual

Without all listed parts, instructions may not apply.

Installation

This installation lets you manage up to four video sources through one video input on your TV. The block diagram at the end of this manual shows how to connect. Connect the switcher to your TV first.

Important: Use either composite video (the yellow jack) or S-video (all of your connections, if all of your components). Disconnect your TV after S-video connections and all S-video connections. Otherwise, you will lose all composite video connections.

Connecting to your TV

1. Make the video connection.
Connect either an S-video cable or a composite video cable to the corresponding OUT VIDEO jack on the switcher's back panel. Connect the other end of the cable to the TV's video input jack.
2. Make the audio connection.
Connect a stereo audio cable to the OUT AUDIO L and R jacks on the switcher's back panel. Connect the other end of the cable to your TV's audio input jacks.

Make sure your cable is the color coding at the end of the cable, with the color coding on the jacket—usually red-white red and white with white.

Before Reconnection

Warning: Disconnect power completely from all the devices you are going to plug connections into before connecting or disconnecting connections.

Warning: Do not connect the switcher until the power is completely disconnected from all connections. The electrical shock and fire hazard is high when connecting or disconnecting connections. Always use the correct power on connections.

This symbol indicates "Dangerous voltage" inside the product. Disconnect power completely before connecting or disconnecting connections.
