Huntington Library and Art Gallery, Ray Allen BILLINGTON, John Pomfret, 1969 Frederick Jackson Turner Ray Allen Billington, 1973 Nature's Noblemen Monica Rico, 2013-07-16 DIV In this fascinating book Monica Rico explores the myth of the American West in the nineteenth century as a place for men to assert their masculinity by roughing it in the wilderness and reveals how this myth played out in a transatlantic context Rico uncovers the networks of elite men British and American who circulated between the West and the metropolises of London and New York Each chapter tells the story of an individual who by traveling these transatlantic paths sought to resolve anxieties about class gender and empire in an era of profound economic and social transformation All of the men Rico discusses from the well known including Theodore Roosevelt and Buffalo Bill Cody to the comparatively obscure such as English cattle rancher Moreton Frewen envisioned the American West as a global space into which redemptive narratives of heroic upper class masculinity could be written div The Sower and the Seer Joseph Hogan, Jon Lauck, Paul Murphy, Andrew Seal, Gleaves Whitney, 2021-02-17 This collection of twenty two essays a product of recent revivals of interest in both Midwestern history and intellectual history argues for the contributions of interior thinkers and ideas in forming an American identity The Midwest has been characterized as a fertile seedbed for the germination of great thinkers but a wasteland for their further growth The Sower and the Seer reveals that representation to be false In fact the region has sustained many innovative minds and been the locus of extraordinary intellectualism It has also been the site of shifting interpretations to some a frontier to others a colonized space a breadbasket a crossroads a heartland As agrarian reformed and Michigander Liberty Hyde Bailey expressed in his 1916 poem Sower and Seer the Midwestern landscape has given rise to significant visionaries just as their knowledge has nourished and shaped the region The essays gathered for this collection examine individual thinkers writers and leaders as well as movements and ideas that shaped the Midwest including rural school consolidation women s literary societies Progressive era urban planning and Midwestern radical liberalism While disparate in subject and style these essays taken together establish the irrefutable significance of the intellectual history of the American Midwest The German Myth of the East Vejas G. Sparks,.... Ray Allen Billington,Samuel Hugh Brockunier,1962 Habits of Compassion Maureen Fitzgerald,2006-01-25 The Irish Catholic Sisters accomplished tremendously successful work in founding charitable organizations in New York City from the Irish famine through the early twentieth century Maureen Fitzgerald argues that their championing of the rights of the poor especially poor women resulted in an explosion of state supported services and programs Parting from Protestant belief in meager and means tested aid Irish Catholic nuns argued for an approach based on compassion for the poor Fitzgerald positions the nuns activism as resistance to Protestantism s cultural hegemony As she shows Roman Catholic nuns offered strong and unequivocal moral leadership in condemning those who punished the poor for their poverty and unmarried women for sexual transgression Fitzgerald also delves into the nuns own communities from the class based hierarchies within the convents to the political power they wielded within the city That power amplified by an alliance with the local Irish Catholic political machine allowed the women to expand public charities in the city on an unprecedented scale The Historian's Contribution to Anglo-American Misunderstanding; Report of a Committee on National Bias in Anglo-American History Textbooks by Ray Allen Billington, with the Collaboration of C.
