Llinares, Tom Morton, Rachel Whittaker, 2012-03-15 This book provides a theoretically based approach to the integration of language and content in primary and secondary contexts Drawing on their wide experience as CLIL educators and researchers the authors explore data collected in real CLIL classrooms from two interrelated perspectives the CLIL classroom as an interactional context for developing language and content and the genres and registers through which the meanings of the different academic subjects are enacted From the analysis of this corpus of data the authors provide a rich description of how CLIL students language works and may be expected to develop Also available separately as a hardback

Moral Luck Bernard Williams, 1981-12-03 A new volume of philosophical essays by Bernard Williams The book is a successor to Problems of the Self but whereas that volume dealt mainly with questions of personal identity Moral Luck centres on questions of moral philosophy and the theory of rational action That whole area has of course been strikingly reinvigorated over the last decade and philosophers have both broadened and deepened their concerns in a way that now makes much earlier moral and political philosophy look sterile and trivial Moral Luck contains a number of essays that have contributed influentially to this development Among the recurring themes are the moral and philosophical limitations of utilitarianism the notion of integrity relativism and problems of moral conflict and rational choice The work presented here is marked by a high degree of imagination and acuity and also conveys a strong sense of psychological reality The volume will be a stimulating source of ideas and arguments for all philosophers and a wide range of other readers Complexity and

Artificial Markets Klaus Schredelseker, Florian Hauser, 2008-07-30 In recent years agent based simulation has become a widely accepted tool when dealing with complexity in economics and other social sciences The contributions presented in this book apply agent based methods to derive results from complex models related to market mechanisms evolution decision making and information economics In addition the applicability of agent based methods to complex problems in economics is discussed from a methodological perspective The papers presented in this collection combine approaches from economics
