become a key factor in urban development policies Cities all over the world take specific actions to manipulate the imagery and the perceptions of places both in the eyes of the inhabitants and in those of potential tourists investors users and consumers City Branding The Ghostly Politics of Representation in Globalising Cities explores different sides of place branding policies The construction and the manipulation of urban images triggers a complex politics of representation modifying the visibility and the invisibility of spaces subjects problems and discourses In this sense urban branding is not an innocent tool this book aims to investigate and reflect on the ideas of urban life the political unconscious the affective geographies and the imaginaries of power constructed and reproduced through urban branding This book situates city branding within different geographical contexts and ordinary cities demonstrated through a number of international case studies In order to map and contextualise the variety of urban imaginaries involved author Alberto Vanolo incorporates conceptual tools from cultural studies and the embrace of an explicitly post colonial perspective This critical analysis of current place branding strategy is an essential reference for the study of city marketing

Imagining Collective Futures

Constance de Saint-Laurent, Sandra Obradović, Kevin R. Carriere, 2018-05-08 It is a commonly held assumption among cultural social and political psychologists that imagining the future of societies we live in has the potential to change how we think and act in the world However little research has been devoted to whether this effect exists in collective imaginations of social groups communities and nations for instance This book explores the part that imagination and creativity play in the construction of collective futures and the diversity of outlets in which these are presented from fiction and cultural symbols to science and technology The authors discuss this effect in social phenomena such as in intergroup conflict and social change and focus on several cases studies to illustrate how the imagination of collective futures can guide social and political action This book brings together theoretical and empirical contributions from cultural social and political psychology to offer insight into our constant re imagination of the societies in which we live

Dealing with Bioethical Issues in a

Globalized World Joris Gielen, 2020-01-09 This book addresses the complexity of talking about normativity in bioethics within the context of contemporary multicultural and multi religious society It offers original contributions by specialists in bioethics exploring new ways of understanding normativity in bioethics In bioethical publications and debates the concept of normativity is often used without consideration of the difficulties surrounding it whereas there are many competing claims for normativity within bioethics Examples of such competing normative bioethical discourses can be perceived in variations and differences in bioethical arguments within individual religions and the opposition between bioethical arguments from specific religions and arguments from bioethicists who do not claim religious allegiance We also cannot merely assume that a Western understanding of normative bioethics will be unproblematic in bioethics in non Western cultures and religions Through an analysis of normativity in Christian Hindu Buddhist Islamic and Jewish bioethics the book creates awareness of the complexity of normativity in bioethics The book also covers normative bioethics outside an explicitly religiously committed context and specific attention is paid to bioethics as an interdisciplinary endeavor It reveals how normativity relates to empirical and global bioethics which challenges it faces in bioethics in secular pluralistic society and how to overcome these By doing that this book fills an important gap in bioethics literature The Hungarian Quarterly ,2008

Mediterranean Encounters in the City Michela Ardizzoni, Valerio Ferme, 2015-12-03 This book documents and analyzes how the contemporary Mediterranean city manages and negotiates its identity as a result of recent reconfigurations in its cultural religious and social landscape The events of Sept 11 2001 have recast difference as a central trope of identification in urban borderland settings unleashing heated debates about cultural convergences and animating anxieties about an arguable clash of civilizations in modern cities These emerging uncertainties have also grown stronger as the homogenizing forces of globalization unsettle essential principles of the nation state and nationhood and render fixed perceptions of distinctive and singular people and cultures more tenuous Recent scholarship and public discourse have accordingly framed discussions of these encounters around concerns of geo political security and international policy Unfortunately framed within these terms our understanding of how various groups within the Mediterranean metropolis deal with the intensification of difference as a lived experience has remained regrettably thin This volume transcends this limitation and explores new interdisciplinary research paradigms that will help us gain a comprehensive perspective on how complex macro and micro tensions contradictions and similarities are negotiated in building urban identities in the Mediterranean basin The contributors to this volume explore the multi faceted nature of Mediterranean cities and engage a critical discussion of identity production and consumption in the Mediterranean basin By spanning two centuries and examining both the Northern and Southern shores of the Mediterranean the chapters in this book provide a broad and comprehensive investigation of the ways in which recent cultural productions have framed and re imagined the Mediterranean city as a locus of departures arrivals and contested belonging By focusing on cinema photography new media magazines music and literature as different stages for the performative representation of Mediterraneity the authors highlight the vibrancy of the intercultural discourses taking place along the shores of the mare nostrum and provide new perspectives from which to explore the relationship between North and South East and West
