Curriculum-based Assessment Carroll J. Jones, 2008 Although curriculum based assessment CBA has been on the horizon for a number of years there has been a need for a practical classroom based approach for its implementation This second edition is a major revision and update that offers practical and specific methods for developing and using CBAs in an educational setting It gives educators a highly specific step by step approach to building CBAs in the area of reading word recognition reading comprehension content reading mathematics and written expression Each chapter offers detailed easy to read and easy to follow instructions for the assessment construction process To further clarify the process extensive examples are given in table format A unique feature of the text is the manner in which the author illustrates the principles of CBA by providing a case study on one student which is referred to in each chapter Its formative assessment approach gives the teacher additional detailed information about students OCO performance which in turn should guide the type of instruction designed and implemented ultimately leading to higher performance on summative outcome measures Additionally detailed information is provided on subject area CBA construction the creation and implementation of a district wide CBA system for response to intervention and how to use IDEA S response to intervention in student evaluation

directly contradicted by empirical facts of human and animal studies of intelligence This book proposes utilizes and demonstrates the research superiority of a highly developed multidisciplinary theory models approach to intelligence With conceptual tools concepts and mathematical methods more suited to continuous dynamic phenomena of living things the entire scope of natural intelligence based upon empirical studies of actual human and animal experience is addressed Results show that human and animal intelligence is largely self organizing and emergent across a spectrum of major categories of kinds of natural intelligence not limited to a single top down capacity as current proponents of the single capacity g theory and IQ approach support Contrary to the single capacity verbal theory of intelligence this work argues and shows evidence for three major categories of natural intelligence Overwhelming empirical evidence is given to show that our understanding of cognition itself must be broadened to include nonverbal immediate awareness as a category of natural intelligence that is embedded within sensory and somatosensory motor processes that make possible yet another category of intelligence knowing how While most current theories of intelligence assume that the mind is entirely computational and also assume that sensation is cognitively neutral having no intentionality here empirical evidence is presented from numerous clinical studies showing that certain primitive sensory processes are not cognitively neutral nor do they require a representational language interface in order to be accessible to cognitive intelligence processes This volume describes a rigorous treatment and exhaustive classification of natural intelligence while also demonstrating a more adequate scientific and mathematical approach than current statistical and psychometric approaches shoring up the out dated and misused IQ hypothetical construct
