6. What is the geometric interpretation of the derivative of a function at a point?

The geometric interpretation of the derivative of a function at a point is the slope of the tangent line to the graph of the function at that point.

7. What is the difference between a tangent line and a secant line?

A tangent line is different from a secant line in that a tangent line just touches the curve at a single point, while a secant line intersects the curve at two points.

8. How do you find the equation of a tangent line to a curve at a point using its derivative?

To find the equation of a tangent line to a curve at a point using its derivative, you need to know the derivative of the function at that point and the coordinates of the point on the graph of the function. Using these values, you can write the equation of the tangent line using the point-slope formula.
