The Civil Rights Movement

The Civil Rights Movement is known for its struggle against racism in the 1950s and 1960s. It was led by people who fought for equal rights for all people, regardless of race.

After the Civil War, the American South was still full of racism. Many laws were passed that kept African Americans from getting equal rights. These laws were called Jim Crow laws.

People who fought against these laws were called Civil Rights leaders. They wanted to end racism and make sure everyone had the same rights.

One of the most famous Civil Rights leaders was Martin Luther King Jr. He was a Baptist minister who led the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC).
