2. Why is heating important in the chemistry lab? Give an example of its use.

In the chemistry lab, heating is significant because it can be utilized to create a physical or chemical change. Heating liquid water, for example, will turn it into gas (vapor). Another reason for the importance of heating is that it can be used to accelerate a change. For example, heat can be used to dissolve salt in water more quickly.

3. How does a Bunsen burner differ from other heating instruments such as hot plates and/or heating mantles?

The Bunsen burner differs from other heating devices such as hot plates or heating mantles in that it uses an open flame to produce heat. A hot plate converts electrical energy into thermal energy, whereas a Bunsen burner converts chemical energy into thermal energy. Heating mantles are used to heat organic liquids that are flammable.
