Oeuvres De Marie Catherine Daulnoy:

The Kings' Mistresses Elizabeth Goldsmith, 2012-04-03 The little known story of two spirited sisters who flaunted every social convention of 17th century Europe in their determination to live independently Love, Power, and Gender in Seventeenth-Century French Fairy Tales Bronwyn Reddan, 2020-12 Love is a key ingredient in the stereotypical fairy tale ending in which everyone lives happily ever after This romantic formula continues to influence contemporary ideas about love and marriage but it ignores the history of love as an emotion that shapes and is shaped by hierarchies of power including gender class education and social status This interdisciplinary study questions the idealization of love as the ultimate happy ending by showing how the conteuses the women writers who dominated the first French fairy tale vogue in the 1690s used the fairy tale genre to critique the power dynamics of courtship and marriage Their tales do not sit comfortably in the fairy tale canon as they explore the good the bad and the ugly effects of love and marriage on the lives of their heroines Bronwyn Reddan argues that the conteuses scripts for love emphasize the importance of gender in determining the right way to love in seventeenth century France Their version of fairy tale love is historical and contingent rather than universal and timeless This conversation about love compels revision of the happily ever after narrative and offers incisive commentary on the gendered scripts for the performance of love in courtship and marriage in seventeenth century France

The Feminist Encyclopedia of French Literature Eva M. Sartori, 1999-07-30 The earliest known literary productions by women living in Europe were probably written by French writers As early as the 12th century women troubadours in the south of France were writing poems French women continued writing through the ages their number increasing as education became more available to women of all classes And yet of the great number of works by women writers who preceded the current feminist movement very few have survived A few writers such as Marie de France George Sand and Simone de Beauvoir became part of the canon But critics mostly male had judged the works of only a few women writers worthy of recognition As part of the feminist move to reclaim women writers and to rethink literary history scholars in French literature began to take a new look at women writers who had been popular during their lifetimes but who had not been admitted into the canon This reference book provides extensive information about French women writers and the world in which they lived Included are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries for authors literary genres such as the novel poetry and the short story literary movements such as classicism realism and surrealism life cycle events particular to women such as menstruation and menopause events and institutions which affected women differently than men such as revolutions wars and laws on marriage divorce and education The volume spans French literature from the Middle Ages to the present and covers those writers who lived and worked mainly in France The entries are written by expert contributors and each includes bibliographical information The entries focus on each writer's awareness of how her gender shaped her outlook and opportunities on how categorizations structures and terms used to describe literary works have been defined for women and the ways in which women writers have responded to these definitions The volume begins with a feminist history of French literature and concludes with a selected general bibliography and a chronology of women writers The Mother in/and French Literature ,2021-11-22 The essays in this volume investigate maternity and the figure of the mother in French literature from France Switzerland Quebec and Africa from the seventeenth century to the present Drawing on cultural history psychoanalysis and feminist theory as well as more traditional methods they present maternity as a source of frustration and of joy mothers as repressed and revered daughters as wounded and loving sons as domineering and dependent Indeed few things are simple where mothers and especially where writing about mothers are concerned The Berlin Refuge 1680-1780 Sandra Pott,Martin Mulsow,Lutz Danneberg,2003-07-01 This volume deals with the intellectual Huguenot Refuge ca 1680 1780 discussing its philosophical theological historical and literary aspects in European context It uses Berlin as its regional point of departure In the French Protestant community of Berlin the erudites rapidly established networks which pursued a very wide range of interest communicating with every Protestant scholar who might contribute to the dissemination of Enlightened thought The first part of the book therefore introduces the biggest and most complex centre of the Refuge in Germany Whereas the second and third part examine different fields of knowledge the fourth focusses on the topic of dissemination All contributions present new material be it on Huguenot hermeneutics journalism history or on the relationship between Berlin and the United Provinces Contributors include Lutz Danneberg Joris van Eijnatten Herbert Jaumann John Christian Laursen Fabrizio Lomonaco Martin Mulsow Fiammetta Palladini Sandra Pott and Annett Volmer

Miracles of Love Nora Martin Peterson,2021-11-12 Before children s stories came to exemplify the French fairy tale early modern audiences read the works of women writers known as conteuses From the late seventeenth century through the Revolution the conteuses published rich complex tales that were popular in literary salons and elite courtly settings These unpredictable works feature candid representations of female desire strong support for the education of women and surprising twists on the fairy tale formulas familiar to readers of Charles Perrault Not only witty and entertaining the tales also comment on the unfair treatment of women that the authors saw in society history and myth Brief biographies introduce to new audiences writers who challenged social conventions won popular and critical acclaim and defined the fairy tale genre in their own time The Uses of Curiosity in Early Modern France and Germany Neil Kenny,2004-07-08 Why did people argue about curiosity in France Germany and elsewhere in Europe between the sixteenth and the eighteenth centuries so much more than today Why was curiosity a fashionable topic in early modern conduct manuals university dissertations scientific treatises sermons newspapers novellas plays operas ballets poems from Corneille to Diderot from Johann Valentin Andreae to Gottlieb Spizel Universities churches and other institutions invoked curiosity in order to regulate knowledge or behaviour to establish who should try to know or do what and under what circumstances As well as investigating a crucial episode in the history of knowledge this study makes a distinctive contribution to historiographical debates about the nature of concepts Curiosity was constantly reshaped by the uses of it And yet strangely however much people contested what curiosity was they often agreed that what they were disagreeing about was one and the same thing Sightings Joyce O. Lowrie, 2008-01-01 Mirrors are mesmerizing The rhetorical figure that represents a mirror is called a chiasmus a pattern derived from the Greek letter X Chi This pattern applies to sentences such as one does not live to eat one eats to live It is found in myths plays poems biblical songs short stories novels epics Numerous studies have dealt with repetition difference and Narcissism in the fields of literature music and art But mirror structures per se have not received systematic notice This book analyses mirror imagery scenes and characters in French prose texts in chronological order from the 17th to the 20th centuries It does so in light of literal metaphoric and rhetorical structures Works analysed in the traditional French canon written by such writers as Laclos Lafayette and Balzac are extended by studies of texts composed by Barbey d'Aurevilly Georges Rodenbach Jean Lorrain and Pieyre de Mandiargues This work appeals to readers interested in linguistics French history psychology art and material culture It invites analyses of historical and ideological contexts rhetorical strategies symmetry and asymmetry Ovid's Narcissus and Alice in Wonderland are paradigms for the study of micro and macro structures Analyses of mirrors as cultural artefacts are significant to Lowrie's sight seeing

Towards an Equality of the Sexes in Early Modern France Derval Conroy, 2021-02-24 This volume sets out to examine the ways in which an equality between the sexes is constructed conceptualised imagined or realised in early modern France a period and a country which produced some of the earliest theorisations on equality In so doing it aims to contribute towards the development of the history of equality as an intellectual category within the history of political thought and to situate the woman question within that history The eleven chapters in the volume span the fields of political theory philosophy literature history and history of ideas bringing together literary scholars historians philosophers and scholars of political thought and examining an extensive range of primary sources Whilst most of the chapters focus on the conceptualisation of a moral metaphysical or intellectual equality between the sexes space is also given to concrete examples of a de facto gender equality in operation The volume is aimed at scholars and graduate students of political thought history of philosophy women's history and gender studies alike It aims to throw light on the history of Western ideas of equality and difference questions which continue to preoccupy cultural historians philosophers political theorists and feminist critics
