Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and energy expenditure (EE) of sedentary, middle-aged women. The subjects were randomly assigned to a control group (CON) and an exercise group (EX). The EX group performed a 12-week training program consisting of three sessions per week of aerobic exercise. The CON group did not exercise. The EX group showed a significant decrease in HR and a significant increase in EE compared to the CON group. The results of this study suggest that a 12-week training program can improve the cardiovascular fitness and energy expenditure of sedentary, middle-aged women.

- Day and night periods that are longer than the standard 24 hours occur most commonly with the use of artificial light or natural light sources. To avoid this, there are two things the producer should do:
  - 1. Use natural light sources that are as close to the natural day/night cycle as possible.
  - 2. Use artificial light sources that are as close to the natural day/night cycle as possible.
- The end of the day is the time when the light intensity is at its lowest. This is the time when the plants are most likely to be damaged by the light. The producer should avoid this by using a light source that is as close to the natural day/night cycle as possible.
- The end of the day is the time when the light intensity is at its lowest. This is the time when the plants are most likely to be damaged by the light. The producer should avoid this by using a light source that is as close to the natural day/night cycle as possible.

When you install your T-Value One Connection, improper installation of all four screws (50 combinations for One Connection) will void the warranty. Please, before installing, refer to the correct installation instructions. Failure to maintain proper ventilation may result in a serious problem with the product.

- When a producer's price for the output rises or falls, it must adjust its output level accordingly. For example, if the price of the output rises, the producer will increase its output level until the marginal revenue is equal to the marginal cost.
