Ecological Changes in the Zambezi River Basin Mzime Ndebele-Murisa, 2021-01-11 This book provides an analysis of the ecological conditions and ecosystem goods and services of the Zambezi River Basin ZRB the fourth largest river in Africa Various environmental and anthropogenic factors inclusive of climate environmental flows hydrology morphology pollution and land use changes among others and their interactions are considered as drivers of the river ecosystems The impacts of these drivers on aquatic biota river ecological integrity and the livelihoods of surrounding communities are analysed within the socio economic policy context The book goes beyond the usual inventories and basic research by using the comparative research method CRM in a trans disciplinary manner This CRM analytical approach in this book seeks to interrogate the differences or similarities in socio economic systems livelihoods ecological systems ecosystem goods and services their usage and management under the seemingly different cultural socio economic conditions expected across borders that are within the ZRB The multidisciplinary approach also connects the typical ecological research with social dimensions in a holistic manner The book therefore provides empirical and research based evidence to support strategic planning and policy development in the wake of ecological changes that nations and indeed regions such as the ZRB are grappling with while seeking to sustainably manage precious river systems From African Peer Review Mechanisms to African Queer Review Mechanisms? Artwell Nhemachena, Victor Warikandwa, 2019-04-22 Tracing recent bouts of globalised Mugabephobia to Robert Mugabe's refusal to be neoimperially penetrated this book juxtaposes economic liberalisation with the mounting liberalisation of African orifices Reading land repossession and economic structural adjustment programmes together with what they call neoimperial structural adjustment of African orifices the authors argue that there has been liberalisation of African orifices in a context where Africans are ironically prevented from repossessing their material resources Juxtaposing recent bouts of Mugabephobia with discourses on homophobia the book asks why empire prefers liberalising African orifices rather than attending to African demands for restitution restoration and reparations Noting that empire opposes African sovereignty autonomy and centralisation of power while paradoxically promoting transnational corporations centralisation of power over African economies the book challenges contemporary discourses about shared sovereignty distributed governance heterarchy heteronomy and ontology Arguing that colonialists similarly denied Africans of their human essence the tome problematises queer sexualities homosexuality ecosexuality cybersexuality and humanoid robotic sexuality all of which complicate supposedly fundamental distinctions between human beings and animals and machines Provocatively questioning queer sexuality and liberalised orifices that serve to divert African attention from the more serious unfinished business of repossessing material resources the book insightfully compares Robert Gabriel Mugabe Thomas Sankara and Julius Kambarage Nyerere who emphasised the imperatives of African autonomy ownership control and sovereignty over natural resources Observing Africans interest in repossessing ownership and control over their resources the book wonders why so much queer international attention is focused on foisting queer sexuality while downplaying more burning issues of resource repossession human dignity equality and equity craved by Africans for whom life is not confined to sexuality With insights for scholars in sociology development studies law politics African studies anthropology transformation decolonisation and decoloniality the book argues that liberal democracy is a faade in a world that is actually ruled through criminocracy
