One Face In A Million William K. Bond, 2021-08-09 One Face in a Million is an entirely fictional story evolved over many years The author began thinking about writing a story after he visited southern Africa in 1967 where his wife had been born and raised and was often called Mu Shangaaniana when she was young He began to formulate a story about a young gal who had been raised on a mission station in Mozambique She was anxious to leave Africa for America to have a more interesting life A plot formed in his my mind and he envisioned a striking gal having a life that was quite amazing She would travel and fall in love meet notable people and experience a lot of success Would that prove to be satisfying for her During the years that followed William was privileged to travel to many places throughout the world so his story evolved in a way that readers could share in some of his traveling experiences His protagonist had to decide what was really important in her life Her story takes place across the span of a few decades therefore the story eventually developed into a series of five books which should be considered as one Because the title is One Face in a Million William knew her appearance would be of real interest He looked at images of several notable actresses of the past but the one that he preferred was of Merle Oberon Perhaps it would be just as well for any reader to formulate their own ideas of what his characters would look like Although this is a fictitious story he hopes that it entertains those who choose to read it
