Higher Education in the Face of a Global Pandemic, 2022-02-28 The book reflects on the extent to which the coronavirus COVID 19 pandemic influenced the education system in Africa notably South Africa The advent of the pandemic has brought a new context to the challenges of access deepening the precarious position of African higher education systems The pandemic underscored that African higher education systems are fragile and not uniformly resilient The book discusses the challenges created or further entrenched by COVID 19 and how the typology of inequality across the differentiated institutions impacted the management of education delivery during COVID 19 Per se lessons learned were documented to inform decision making and practice while drawing conclusions for future usage Even though the shift to emergency remote teaching was not foreseen and thus not coordinated the authors argue that students learning styles perceptions of online learning and digital pedagogy should be considered in the post COVID 19 curricula development processes

Towards more effective collaboration by higher education institutions for greater regional development in the Gauteng City-Region Robert Bergman, 2014-11-19 Higher education institutions HEIs in the Gauteng City Region GCR and elsewhere are increasingly being called upon to do more than their traditional roles of teaching and research They are now expected to collaborate and engage with other stakeholders with a view to contributing directly and indirectly to social and economic development in their localities Such an orientation includes having HEIs actively fostering public private partnerships and other initiatives that enhance equitable regional development The adoption of such a focus has implications for all aspects of these institutions activities as well as for the policy and regulatory framework in which they operate This Occasional Paper reflects critically on the role of HEIs in regional development It surveys current debates on the matter and draws out some of the implications on how we ought to think further about the current state of government industryacademia interaction and collaboration for development in the GCR It is motivated by an awareness of the increasing importance of higher education in the regional development discourse alongside a body of international theory and practice on the contribution of HEIs to regional development A cornerstone of this body of literature is the so called triple helix framework within which government industry and academia work intimately intensely and collaboratively towards a common vision of regional development Within this framework HEIs are considered to be a public good that must play a large meaningful and relevant role in the development and improvement of the cities and regions where they are located 1 2 They do not and cannot stand completely outside the realities of their geographic social cultural and political environment The intended audience for this report extends beyond academics and HEI administrators to include government officials business and labour leaders civil society and citizens because a discussion on stimulating and improving the GCR must be much more than an academic exercise The collaboration that is essential to regional development requires stakeholders to be familiar with a wide spectrum of issues of importance to individual constituencies Each constituency must add value and insight to the discussion by drawing on their specific knowledge experience and self interests Establishing this common ground is fundamental to initiating meaningful debate about what the GCR can and should be and how regional HEIs can work more collaboratively creatively and effectively to improve and advance the region Strengthening the quality of teacher education programs Fika Megawati,Yudhi Arifani,Dodi Mulyadi,2024-01-18 The Geography of South Africa Jasper Knight,Christian M. Makonye,Nokulunga S. Ndlovu,2023-03-01 This book s research is on online pedagogical approaches devised by teacher educators and researchers to circumvent a face to face curriculum delivery during the COVID 19 pandemic The challenge faced by educators was that they were uncertain of how to use digital technologies in teaching learning and assessment productively This book reports on case studies on teaching student teachers with technology in a way that advanced not only communication but also the cognitive growth of students in relation to disciplinary knowledge The scholars from South African universities used both conceptual and empirical methodologies mostly in qualitative set ups The scholarly contributions in this book are varied They cover theoretical nuances for ICT use in education considerations for the use of computers in the classroom pedagogical thinking and pedagogical integration of ICTs in education affordances of iPads in visible teaching and learning supporting student cognition in Languages Mathematics Science Engineering Graphics and Design with ICTs The use of software applications such as GeoGebra and Excel in teaching and learning mathematics is researched among others The rich discussions that emerged from their research enable academics to learn from others innovative moments that came as a result of pandemic pressure The recommendations in this book can be used in blended learning beyond the COVID 19 era as curriculum delivery methods are bound to change The value of this book is that it reports on pedagogical innovations in using digital technologies in teacher education Researchers have an opportunity to learn from this book how to deal with the tantalising teaching and learning problem of our time How can the use of digital technology transform teaching and learning in general and teacher education in particular Collaboration and Integration in Construction, Engineering, Management and Technology Syed M.
