Global Advertising in a Global Culture Thomas H. P. Gould, 2015-12-16 Globalization stems from many sources but as Thomas Gould makes clear advertising is a primary driver of trans global cultural change Gould argues that advertising often carries unfiltered and unblocked cultural messages in addition to commercial speech as such it not only builds consumer demand to open new markets but also changes consumer expectations and values At the same time the evolution of increasingly targeted mobile and social marketing is transforming local and regional cultures into a new mix of global branding and individualized micro space Gould examines how advertising professionals negotiate these rocky and quickly changing cultural terrains He also explores how advertising an increasingly global form of communication is becoming a platform for change at the individual level and as a direct consequence at the social and political levels

Edward Burne-Jones on Nature Liana De Girolami Cheney, 2021-05-21 This volume studies some of Edward Burne Jones's paintings focusing specifically on his approach to nature both through his observations about the real physical world and through his symbolic interpretations of earthly and celestial realms Burne Jones's appreciation for natural formations grew from his interests in astronomy and geography and was expanded by his aesthetic sensibility for physical and metaphysical beauty His drawings and watercolors carefully recorded the physical world he saw around him These studies provided the background for a collection of paintings about landscapes with flora and fauna and ignited an artistic furor that inspired the imagery he used in his allegorical fantasy and dream cycles about forests winding paths and sweet briar roses This study focuses on two main ideas Burne Jones's concept of ideal and artificial or magical nature expressed and represented in his drawings and paintings and the way in which he fused his scientific knowledge about nature with some of the symbolism in his paintings Hastings Communications and Entertainment Law Journal (Comm/Ent) ,2014 The Little Book of

Tan, 2018-03-26 How are users influenced by social media platforms when they generate content and does this influence affect users compliance with copyright laws These are pressing questions in today's internet age and Regulating Content on Social Media answers them by analysing how the behaviours of social media users are regulated from a copyright perspective Corinne Tan an internet governance specialist compares copyright laws on selected social media platforms namely Facebook Pinterest YouTube Twitter and Wikipedia with other regulatory factors such as the terms of service and the technological features of each platform This comparison enables her to explore how each platform affects the role copyright laws play in securing compliance from their users Through a case study detailing the content generative activities undertaken by a hypothetical user named Jane Doe as well as drawing from empirical studies the book argues that in spite of copyright's purported regulation of certain behaviours users are nudged by the social media platforms themselves to behave in ways that may be inconsistent with copyright laws

Praise for Regulating Content on Social Media This book makes an important contribution to the field of social media and copyright It tackles the real issue of how social media is designed to encourage users to engage in generative practices in a sense effectively seducing users into practices that involve misuse or infringement of copyright whilst simultaneously normalising such practices

Melissa de Zwart Dean of Law Adelaide Law School Australia This timely and accessible book examines the regulation of content generative activities across five popular social media platforms Facebook Pinterest YouTube Twitter and Wikipedia Its in depth critical and comparative analysis of the platforms growing efforts to align terms of service and technological features with copyright law should be of great interest to anyone studying the interplay of law and new media
