Place Branding Through Phases Of The Image:

Place Branding through Phases of the Image S. Zavattaro, 2014-08-07 As places face increased competition for human and capital resources public managers turn toward corporate like governance strategies and branding practices to shape places and organizations However for better or worse these organizations begin to resemble highly competitive private sector public relations and marketing firms Place branding is taking hold within many organizations including city governments yet very few scholars take a public administration approach when exploring the causes and effects of branding practices In Place Branding through Phases of the Image Zavattaro explains how city promotional strategies can take the place of corporate governance structures through phases of the image She examines how city government entities are undertaking place branding practices with the realization that relying too much on image rather than a balance between image and substance has serious implications for democratic collaborative governance This book creates a workable framework that simultaneously serves as a cautionary tale for building a promotional campaign focused exclusively on image

Inclusive Place Branding Mihalís Karavatzis, Massimo Giovanardi, Maria Lichrou, 2017-11-22 Place branding is often a response to inter place competition and discussed as if it operated in a vacuum ignoring the needs of local communities It has developed a set of methods catchy slogans colourful logos star architects bidding for City of Culture status etc that are applied as quick fix solutions regardless of geographical and socio political contexts Critical views of place branding are emerging which focus on its unexplored consequences on the physical and social fabric of places These more critical approaches reveal place branding as an essentially political activity serving hidden agendas and marginalizing social groups Scholars and practitioners can no longer ignore the need for more responsible and socially sensitive approaches to cater for a wider range of stakeholders and which fully acknowledge the importance of resident participation in decision making The contributions in this innovative book set out to introduce new critical ways of thinking around place branding and practices that encourage it to be more inclusive and participatory It will be of interest to researchers and advanced students of branding critical marketing and destination marketing as well as critical tourism and environmental design Place Branding and Marketing from a Policy Perspective Vincent Mabillard, Martial Pasquier, Renaud Vuignier, 2023-12-04 As part of an emerging literature on place branding this book fills the important gap between practice oriented literature which lacks in depth and critical analysis and technical academic literature which tends to miss down to earth practitioners concerns and to overlook policy and political contexts Providing frameworks and knowledge on how to practice place branding effectively this book anchors place branding practices in a solid analytical framework It presents place branding practices through the lenses of public sector marketing strategic management and governance processes and structures as well as communication tools Marketing a place is more than creating a logo and a motto this book presents the key strategic aspects to be considered when promoting a place Readers will gain knowledge about the most important features of place promotion the development of brands and marketing campaigns in the public sector the establishment of dedicated politico administrative structures and the increasing involvement of various stakeholders that play a central role as place promoters This book will be a valuable resource for researchers and postgraduate students across place branding marketing and management and urban studies as well as public management administration and policy The practical conclusions discussed in the book will also appeal to practitioners business consultants and people working in public administration and politics City Branding Alberto Vanolo, 2017-02-03 Since the 1990s city branding has become a key factor in urban development policies Cities all over the world take specific actions to manipulate the imagery and the perceptions of places both in the eyes of the inhabitants and in those of potential tourists investors users and consumers City Branding The Ghostly Politics of Representation in Globalising Cities explores different sides of place branding policies The construction and the manipulation of urban images triggers a complex politics of representation modifying the visibility and the invisibility of spaces subjects problems and discourses In this sense urban branding is not an innocent tool this book aims to investigate and reflect on the ideas of urban life the political unconscious the affective geographies and the imaginaries of power constructed and reproduced through urban branding This book situates city branding within different geographical contexts and ordinary cities demonstrated through a number of international case studies In order to map and contextualise the variety of urban imaginaries involved author Alberto Vanolo incorporates conceptual tools from cultural studies and the embrace of an explicitly post colonial perspective This critical analysis of current place branding strategy is an essential reference for the study of city marketing Branding the Middle East Steffen Wippel, 2023-10-04 This edited volume investigates place product and personal branding in the Middle East and North Africa including some studies from adjacent regions and the wider Islamicate world Going beyond simply presenting logos and slogans it critically analyses processes of strategic communication and image building under general conditions of globalisation neoliberalisation and postmodernisation and in a regional perspective of lasting authoritarian rule and increased endeavours for worlding In particular it looks at the multiple actors involved in branding activities their interests and motives and investigates tools channels and forms of branding A major interest exists in the entanglements of different spatial scales and in the inconsistencies of communication measures Attention is paid to reconfigurations of certain images over time and to the positioning of objects of branding in time and space Historical case studies supplement the focus on contemporary branding efforts While branding in the Western world and many emerging economies has been meticulously analysed this edited volume fills an important gap in the research on MENA countries
