

The illustration depicts two European Waxwings (Baccus arvensis) perched on a gnarled, light-brown branch. The bird in the upper left is shown in profile, facing left, with its head slightly turned. It has a reddish-brown crest, a black throat and face, and a body with warm brown and tan tones. Its wings show a mix of grey, black, and white feathers, with a prominent yellow patch on the underside of the tail. The bird in the lower right is also in profile, facing right, with similar plumage. Several clusters of small, bright red berries are attached to thin, leafless branches that crisscross the scene. The background is a plain, light cream color.
