Ministry of Justice: Transforming Management of Young Adults in Custody - Cm. 8733 Great Britain: Ministry of Justice,2013-11-07 The Ministry of Justice are transforming how they manage offenders so that they are both punished when they break the law and are also more supported to get their chaotic lives back on track They now want to make sure that these same principles are applied to the way young adults in custody are managed Young adults 18 20 year olds who are held in custody are usually accommodated in Young Offender Institutions YOIs rather than adult prisons The context in which this was an effective means of managing this group has changed and the current approach is no longer appropriate or effective They are proposing a new approach to managing young adults that takes into account the challenges of this age group as well as ensuring they benefit from wider reforms Many young adults are still maturing and sometimes lack the skills to negotiate complex social situations When large numbers of people in this age group are held together they can become so volatile it becomes difficult for staff to manage them If this continues there is a danger that the experience of young adults in custody will become more about containment and less about rehabilitation and supporting them to desist from offending In the new framework it is proposed that all young adults will be accommodated in mixed institutions where resources are targeted on their risks and rehabilitation and resettlement needs The aim is to ensure that their time in custody is both safe and effective Advances in Child Development and Behavior ,1992-01-08 Advances in Child Development and Behavior Transforming Youth Custody Great Britain: Ministry of Justice,2013-02-14 This report describes the Government s plans for placing high quality education at the centre of youth custody Plans to reform youth custody will see young people appropriately punished while at the same time learning to take responsibility for their actions and gaining the skills and qualifications they need to lead productive law abiding lives Secure Colleges would provide education in a period of detention rather than detention with education as an afterthought The consultation paper covers key information on youth custody and the young people held there the case for change our vision for Secure Colleges which place education at the heart of the system The main areas for consideration by all respondents are tailoring education to young people in custody meeting the wider needs of young people in custody closing the gap between custody and community the physical environment and meeting demand a focus on outcomes All responses should be submitted by 30 April 2013
