Historical spatial change in the Gauteng City-Region Brian Mubiwa, Harold Annegarn, 2013-03-29 The mission of the Gauteng City Region Observatory GCRO is to help illuminate trends and dynamics shaping the region of towns and cities in and around Gauteng and also enhance understanding of the idea of the Gauteng City Region GCR as a project a different way of thinking about and governing this space While much of the data collection and analysis work of the GCRO is focused on the present we also consider the city region's past and its possible futures A 2030 National Development Plan crafted by the National Planning Commission has recently been adopted In addition the Gauteng Provincial Government working with municipal partners and business civil society and labour stakeholders is drafting a G2055 long term development plan As our society looks forward to what sort of country and region we need to become it is also important to look backward Understanding the past gives us insights into how we have come to be where we are now and so in turn what paths we should tread into the future This Occasional Paper is one of two that GCRO has commissioned specifically to deepen our understanding of the past of the GCR Both focus on aspects of the region's spatial past and ought to be read together This paper by Brian Mubiwa and Harold Annegarn explores the historical spatial evolution of the GCR It examines key spatial changes that have shaped the region over a century and provides a remarkable picture based on satellite imagery of regional spatial growth in the last two decades The companion paper by Alan Mabin asks the different but related question of how the idea of a city region found expression in various statutory planning frameworks over the course of the last century and how embryonic cityregion concepts influenced spatial decisions and developments Gauteng Province Responsible Tourism Planning Manual Jacques Stoltz,Gauteng Tourism Authority,Development Bank of southern Africa,International Centre for Responsible Tourism (ICRT),2006 Consolidating Developmental Local Government Mirjam Van Donk,Isandla Institute,2008 Documents the dynamics of local government transformation and captures the key themes of the debates about policy options lessons and key strategic decisions This text is suitable for government officials students researchers specialists community leaders businesses and the general reader South Africa Yearbook ,1999 ICGR 2022 5th International Conference on Gender Research Elisabeth Pereira,Carlos Costa,Zélia Breda,2022-04-28 South Africa's Country Report to the Fourteenth Session of the United Nations Commission on Sustainable Development (CSD 14) South Africa. Department of Environmental Affairs and Tourism,2005 The National Agricultural Directory 2011 ,2010 Telemedicine in Low-Resource Settings Richard Wootton,2015-04-24 Telemedicine networks to support healthcare workers in resource limited settings often for humanitarian purposes have evolved over the last decade or so in a largely autonomous way Communication between them has been informal and relatively limited in scope This situation could be improved by developing a comprehensive approach to the collection and dissemination of information A recent review identified seven telemedicine networks each of which had been in operation for at least five years and which provided store and forward telemedicine services to doctors in low and middle income countries These networks provide clinically useful services and improved healthcare access However like much of telemedicine the formal evidence for their cost effectiveness remains weak Topics of current research interest therefore include the cost effectiveness of telemedicine in resource limited settings Outcomes data and methods for gathering it such as patient quality of life following a telemedicine episode the knowledge gain of healthcare staff involved in telemedicine and staff recruitment and retention in rural areas are also of interest Finally there is little published information about the performance of these telemedicine networks and methods for measuring it about how best to manage them and about how to share resources between them A collection of articles reporting the current evidence supporting the use of telemedicine in resource limited settings would build the evidence base and should provide a focus for future research It would also serve to raise the profile of this potentially important research field South African Journal of Science ,2008 National Responsible Tourism Guidelines for South Africa South Africa.
