Miller,2011-11-15 In his final speech I've Been to the Mountaintop Martin Luther King Jr delivered his support of African American garbage workers on strike in Memphis Although some consider this oration King s finest it is mainly known for its concluding two minutes wherein King compares himself to Moses and seems to predict his own assassination But King gave an hour long speech and the concluding segment can only be understood in relation to the whole King scholars generally focus on his theology not his relation to the Bible or the circumstance of a Baptist speaking in a Pentecostal setting Even though King cited and explicated the Bible in hundreds of speeches and sermons Martin Luther King s Biblical Epic is the first book to analyze his approach to the Bible and its importance to his rhetoric and persuasiveness Martin Luther King s Biblical Epic argues that King challenged dominant Christian supersessionist conceptions of Judaism in favor of a Christianity that affirms Judaism as its wellspring In his final speech King implicitly but strongly argues that one can grasp Jesus only by first grasping Moses and the Hebrew prophets This book also traces the roots of King s speech to its Pentecostal setting and to the Pentecostals in his audience In doing so Miller puts forth the first scholarship to credit the mostly unknown but brilliant African American architect who created the large yet compact church sanctuary which made possible the unique connection between King and his audience on the night of his last speech The Outlook ,1896 The Christian Educator ,1914
