Menzies, Ross G. Menzies, Lisa Iverach, 2018-08-30 The dread of death has appeared throughout recorded human history in art literature song myth and ritual In both ancient and modern societies the spectre of death has always been with us stalking the terrified living who seek to avoid its inevitable arrival Our attempts to respond to the finitude of life range from ancient burial customs such as mummification to computerised chatbots which imitate the personality of those who have departed Such efforts speak to the uniqueness of humans in their awareness of their own mortality Yet death is not to be feared Indeed it may hold the key to living a vital authentic life The many authors of this volume argue persuasively that we cannot live fully without complete acceptance of the fragility and finiteness of life This unique book explores the dread of death and its management from a wide range of perspectives with researchers and writers from a variety of cultures academic traditions and disciplines across the globe The fields covered are broad including palliative care and grief psychodynamic theory social developmental and clinical psychology sociology and anthropology counselling practice as well as history art and philosophy Not only is this book a fascinating journey into the very core of the human psyche it is also a guide to our psychological health The challenge we all face is to discover pathways to an acceptance of death that enables a life of significance and meaning Read learn and explore what an examination of the dread of death can bring to one's life

MAN ALONE: ALIENATION IN MODERN SOCIETY, 1962 Hades; or, the Intermediate state of man Henry CONSTABLE (Chaplain of the City of London Hospital for Diseases of the Chest.), 1873 Evolutionary Perspectives on Death Todd K. Death in the Victorian Family Patricia Jalland, 1996 This enthralling book explores the experience of dying death grieving and mourning in the years between 1830-1920 Victorian letters and diaries reveal a deep preoccupation with death because of a shorter life expectancy a high death rate for infants and children and a dominant Christian culture Drawing upon the private correspondence diaries and death memorial of fifty-five middle and upper class families Pat Jalland shows us how dying death and grieving were experienced by Victorian families and how the manner and rituals of death and mourning varied with age gender disease religious belief family size and class She examines deathbed scenes good and bad deaths funerals and cremations mourning rituals widowhood and the roles of religion and medicine The Right to Be Protected from Committing Suicide Jonathan Herring, 2022-06-16 This book argues that suicidal people have the right to receive treatment and for reasonable steps to be taken that they are protected from killing themselves Those suffering threats to life from mental health issues deserve the same protection as those who face threats to life from ill health or violence from others The book explores the ethical and legal case for giving those beset with suicidal thoughts the treatment they need and for reasonable steps to be taken to prevent them attempting suicide Debates around suicide tend to be dominated by cases involving those with terminal medical conditions seeking assisted dying But of those wishing to die it is far more common to find middle aged men and young people oppressed by mental health and personal problems Too often the woeful failure in the funding of mental health services in the UK means that suicidal people are denied the support and help they desperately need This ground breaking book makes the legal and ethical case for recognising that the state and public authorities have a duty to provide and implement an effective suicide prevention strategy
