Towards a Semiotics of Ideology Carlos António Alves dos Reis, 1993 No detailed description available for Towards a Semiotics of Ideology Semiotics and Dialectics Peter V. Zima, 1981-01-01 By focusing on the East European dialogues and polemics both contemporary and past the present volume pursues two aims 1 It would like to locate the discussion between semiotics and dialectics in an historical context 2 It would like to make the reader familiar with the solutions proposed by theoreticians like Bakhtin Lotman Voloshinov Fischer and Mukholovsk solutions which in the past were frequently ignored by European Marxists semioticians and sociologists of literature At present one cannot help feeling that if they had been familiar with the works of these authors Marxism Critical Theory semiotics and the sociology of literature of the text would have evolved differently The Wager of Lucien Goldmann Mitchell Cohen, 2015-12-08

In The Wager of Lucien Goldmann Mitchell Cohen provides the first full length study of this major figure of postwar French intellectual life and champion of socialist humanism While many Parisian leftists staunchly upheld Marxism's scientificity in the 1950s and 1960s Lucien Goldmann insisted that Marxism was by then in severe crisis and had to reinvent itself radically if it were to survive He rejected the traditional Marxist view of the proletariat and contested the structuralist and antihumanist theorizing that infected French left wing circles in the tumultuous 1960s Highly regarded by thinkers as diverse as Jean Piaget and Alasdair

MacIntyre Goldmann is shown here as a socialist who unlike many others of his time refused to portray his aspirations for humanity's future as an inexorable unfolding of history's laws. He saw these aspirations instead as a wager akin to Pascal's in the existence of God. Risk, Goldmann wrote in his classic study of Pascal and Racine, The Hidden God, possibility of failure, hope of success, and the synthesis of the three in a faith which is a wager are the essential constituent elements of the human condition. In The Wager of Lucien Goldmann, Cohen retrieves Goldmann's achievement: his genetic structuralist method, his sociology of literature, his libertarian socialist politics. The Cambridge Companion to the French Novel Timothy Unwin, 1997-10-28 This volume offers a unique and valuable insight into the novel in French over the past two centuries. In a series of essays, acknowledged experts discuss a variety of topics including nineteenth-century realism, women and fiction, popular fiction, experiment and innovation, war and the Holocaust, the Francophone novel, and postmodern fiction. They offer a challenging reassessment of major figures while deliberately reading traditional views of literary history against the grain. Theoretical discussion is combined with close reading of texts and exploration of context, comparison with other genres and other literatures, and reference to novels from earlier periods. This companionable introduction includes a chronology and guide to further reading. From it emerges a strong sense of the vitality and energy of the modern French novel and of the debates surrounding it.

Chinese Vernacular Fiction Wilt Idema, 2021-09-13 Aye D'Avignon Ellen Rose Woods, 1978 The Lost Decade? The 1950s in European History, Politics, Society and Culture Heiko Feldner, Claire Gorrara, Kevin Passmore, 2010-10-12 This volume of essays explores the social, political, and cultural legacies of a decade which has until relatively recently received scant scholarly attention. Sandwiched uncomfortably between the traumatic events of the Second World War and the dramatic changes of the 1960s, the 1950s appeared as seemingly transitional years while they were in fact an astonishingly fecund period of reassessment and experimentation when traditional models were re evaluated and new models were road tested to be either developed or rejected An important intervention in the dynamic scholarly re examination of the 1950s this volume analyzes these years in relation to three broadly defined areas historiography politics and society and culture What emerges from all three parts of the volume is a vision of the 1950s as a decade which was to have a profound impact on post war European identities in two key respects as a time of accelerated European intellectual exchange and as a time of fertile receptivity to the new variously formulated and contested across and within national borders Written by experts in the field the contributions to this volume represent some of the most exciting work on the 1950s currently being undertaken in Europe and the US They combine high intellectual standards with accessibility and will appeal to academics students and the general reader alike

The Algerian New Novel Valérie K. Orlando, 2017-05-10 Disputing the claim that Algerian writing during the struggle against French colonial rule dealt almost exclusively with revolutionary themes The Algerian New Novel shows how Algerian authors writing in French actively contributed to the experimental forms of the period expressing a new age literarily as well as politically and culturally Looking at canonical Algerian literature as part of the larger literary production in French during decolonization Val rie K Orlando considers how novels by Rachid Boudjedra Mohammed Dib Assia Djebar Nabile Far s Yamina Mechakra and Kateb Yacine both influenced and were reflectors of the sociopolitical and cultural transformation that took place during this period in Algeria Although their themes were rooted in Algeria the avant garde writing styles of these authors were influenced by early twentieth century American modernists the New Novelists of 1940s 50s France and African American authors of the 1950s 60s This complex mix of influences led Algerian writers to develop a unique modern literary aesthetic to express their world a tradition of experimentation and fragmentation that still characterizes the work of contemporary Algerian francophone writers

Fiction and the Ways of Knowing Avrom Fleishman, 2014-07-03 In this highly individual study Avrom Fleishman explores a wide range of literary references to human culture the culture of ideas facts and images Each critical essay in Fiction and the Ways of Knowing takes up for sustained analysis a major British novel of the nineteenth or the twentieth century The novels are analyzed in the light of social historical philosophical and other perspectives that can be grouped under the human sciences The diversity of critical contexts in these thirteen essays is organized by Avrom Fleishman s governing belief in the interrelations of literature and other ways of interpreting the world The underlying assumptions of this approach as explained in his introductory essay are that fiction is capable of encompassing even the most recondite facts and recalcitrant ideas that fiction though never a mirror of reality is linked to realities and takes part in the real and that a critical reading may be informed by scientific knowledge without reducing the literary work to a schematic formula Fleishman investigates the matters of fact and belief that make up the designated meanings the intellectual contexts and the speculative parallels in three types of novel Some of the novels discussed make it clear that their authors are informed on matters beyond the nonspecialist s range these essays help bridge this information

gap Other fictional works are only to be grasped in an awareness of the cultural lore tacitly distributed in their own time a modern reader must make the effort to fathom their anachronisms And other novels can be found to open passageways that their authors can only have glimpsed intuitively these must be pursued with great caution but equal diligence The novels discussed include Little Dorrit The Way We Live Now Daniel Deronda The Return of the Native and The Magus Also examined are Wuthering Heights Vanity Fair Northanger Abbey To the Lighthouse Under Western Eyes Ulysses and A Passage to India

Evolution and Conversion René Girard, 2017-02-23 Evolution and Conversion explores the main tenets of Ren Girard's thought in a series of dialogues Here Girard reflects on the evolution of his thought and offers striking new insights on topics such as violence religion desire and literature His long argument is a historical one in which the origin of culture and religion is reunited in the contemporary world by means of a reinterpretation of Christianity and an understanding of the intrinsically violent nature of human beings He also offers provocative re-readings of Biblical and literary texts and responds to statements by Daniel Dennett and Richard Dawkins Including an introduction by the authors this is a revealing text by one of the most original thinkers of our time Literature and Political Change: Budapest, 1908-1918 Mario Fenyo, 2007-12 A study of the Nyugat movement in the late Austro-Hungarian Empire one of the organizers of which was the father of author Mario D Fenyo The objective purpose of this study is twofold First it is an attempt to formulate a methodology a theory of the political function of literature Second it is a case study Contents The Historical Context The Literary Context The Financial Context The Political Attitudes of the Nyugat Writers Numbers The Nyugat The Nyugat The Nyugat versus the Establishment The Mirror or the Hammer Illustrations
