Report From The Bahamas June Jordan:

Caught Between Cultures Elizabeth Russell, 2002 The essays in this collection on Canada the USA Australia and the UK question and discuss the issues of cross cultural identities and the crossing of boundaries both geographical and conceptual All of the authors have experienced cross culturalism directly and are conscious that positions of double vision which allow the to participate positively in two or more cultures are privileges that only a few can celebrate Most women find themselves caught between cultures They become involved in a day to day struggle in an attempt to negotiate identities which can affirm the self and at the same time strengthen the ties which unites the self with others Theoretical issues on cross culturalism therefore can either liberate or constrict the The essays here illustrate how women s writing negotiates this dualism through a colourful and complex weaving of words thoughts and experiences both pleasurable and painful into texts quilts rainbows The metaphors abound The connecting thread through their writing and indeed in these essays is the concept of belonging a theoretical emotional composite of being and longing Home too assumes a variety of meanings it is no longer a static geographical place but many places It is also a place elsewhere in the imagination a mythic place of desire linked to origin Policies of multiculturalism can throw up more problems than they solve In Canada the difficulties surrounding the cross cultural debate have given rise to a state of messy imbroglia Notions of authenticity move dangerously close to essentialist identities Double vision is characteristic of peoples who have been uprooted and displaced such as Australian Aboriginal writers of mixed race abducted during childhood Passing for black or white is full of complications as in the case of Pauline Johnson who passed as an authentic Indian People with hyphenated citizenship such as Japanese Canadian can be either free of national ties or trapped in subordination to the dominant culture in these visible minorities it is the status of being female or coloured female that is so often ultimately rendered invisible Examination of Canadian anthologies on cross cultural writing by women reveals a crossing of boundaries of gender and genre race and ethnicity and in some cases national boundaries in an attempt to connect with a diasporic consciousness Cross cultural women writers in the USA may stress experience and unique collective history while others prefer to focus on aesthetic links and literary connections which ultimately silence difference Journeying from the personal space of the into the collective space of the we is exemplified in a reading of texts by June Jordan and Minnie Bruce Pratt For these writers identity is in process It is a painful negotiation but one which can transform knowledge into action

Some of Us Did Not Die June Jordan, 2003-03-15 She remains a thinker and activist who insists upon complexity Reamy Jansen San Francisco Chronicle Some of Us Did Not Die brings together a rich sampling of the late poet June Jordan s prose writings The essays in this collection which include her last writings and span the length of her extraordinary career reveal Jordan as an incisive analyst of the personal and public costs of remaining committed to the ideal and practice of democracy Willing to venture into the most painful contradictions of American culture and politics Jordan comes back with lyrical honesty wit and wide ranging intelligence in these accounts of her reckoning with

Pluriversal Conversations on Transnational Feminisms Nina Lykke, Redi Koobak, Petra Bakos, Swati Arora, Kharnita Mohamed, 2023-10-27 This edited volume brings transnational feminisms in conversation with intersectional and decolonial approaches The conversation is pluriversal it voices and reflects upon a plurality of geo and corpopolitical as well as epistemic locations in specific Global South East North West contexts The aim is to explore analytical modes that encourage transgressing methodological nationalisms which sustain unequal global power relations and which are still ingrained in the disciplinary perspectives that define much social science and humanities research A main focus of the volume is methodological It asks how an engagement with transnational intersectional and decolonial feminisms can stimulate border crossings Boundaries in academic knowledge building shaped by the limitations imposed by methodological nationalisms are challenged in the book The same applies to boundaries of conventional disembodied and ethically unaffected academic writing modes The transgressive methodological aims are also pursued through mixing genres and shifting boundaries between academic and creative writing Pluriversal Conversations on Transnational Feminisms is intended for broad global audiences of researchers teachers professionals students from undergraduate to postgraduate levels activists and NGOs interested in questions about decoloniality intersectionality and transnational feminisms as well as in methodologies for boundary transgressing knowledge building Black Feminism Reimagined Jennifer C. Nash, 2018-12-06 In Black Feminism Reimagined Jennifer C Nash reframes black feminism s engagement with intersectionality often celebrated as its primary intellectual and political contribution to feminist theory Charting the institutional history and contemporary uses of intersectionality in the academy Nash outlines how women s studies has both elevated intersectionality to the discipline s primary program building initiative and cast intersectionality as a threat to feminism s coherence As intersectionality has become a central feminist preoccupation Nash argues that black feminism has been marked by a single affect defensiveness manifested by efforts to police intersectionality s usages and circulations Nash contends that only by letting go of this deeply alluring protectionist stance the desire to make property of knowledge can black feminists reimagine intellectual production in ways that unleash black feminist theory s visionary world making possibilities Gale Researcher Guide for: Reconstructing History and Gender: Alice Walker Claudia Tate, Michael Hartwell, Mary Pat Brady, Gale Researcher Guide for Reconstructing History and Gender Alice Walker is selected from Gale s academic platform Gale Researcher These study guides provide peer reviewed articles that allow students early success in finding scholarly materials and to gain the confidence and vocabulary needed to pursue deeper research Overcoming Racism and Sexism Linda A. Women and Tourist Work in Jamaica Augusta Lynn Bolles, 2022-01-31 In Women and Tourist Work in Jamaica Seven Miles of Sandy Beach A Lynne Bolles examines Jamaican women tourist workers and their workplaces in Negril Jamaica A major component of Negril's tourism success is the labor of women tourist workers ranging from housekeepers to hotel and business owners Bolles's ethnographic research examines key aspects of women's labor in the tourist industry through the lenses of class color education and training Through the narratives of thirty interlocutors Bolles focuses on the prescience of emotional labor and face to face encounters investigating these women's ideas about tourism on the local level and their wariness of the changing physical environment as a result of tourism expansion For more information check out A Conversation with A Lynne Bolles Women and Tourist Work in Jamaica

The Ruse of Repair Patricia Stuelke, 2021-08-09 Since the 1990s literary and queer studies scholars have eschewed Marxist and Foucauldian critique and hailed the reparative mode of criticism as a more humane and humble way of approaching literature and culture The reparative turn has traveled far beyond the academy influencing how people imagine justice solidarity and social change In The Ruse of Repair Patricia Stuelke locates the reparative turn's hidden history in the failed struggle against US empire and neoliberal capitalism in the 1970s and 1980s She shows how feminist antiracist and anti imperialist liberation movements visions of connection across difference practices of self care and other reparative modes of artistic and cultural production have unintentionally reinforced forms of neoliberal governance At the same time the US government and military universities and other institutions have appropriated and depoliticized these same techniques to sidestep addressing structural racism and imperialism in more substantive ways In tracing the reparative turn's complicated and fraught genealogy Stuelke questions reparative criticism's efficacy in ways that will prompt critics to reevaluate their own reading practices

Rhetorical Bodies Jack Selzer, Sharon Crowley, 1999 What significance does the physical material body still have in a world of virtual reality and genetic cloning How do technology and postmodern rhetoric influence our understanding of the body And how can our discussion of the body affect the way we handle crises in public policy the politics of race and ethnicity issues of family values that revolve around sexual and gender identities the choices revolving around reproduction and genome projects and the spread of disease Leading scholars in rhetoric and communication as well as literary and cultural studies address some of the most important topics currently being discussed in the human sciences The essays collected here suggest the wide range of public arenas in which rhetoric is operative from abortion clinics and the World Wide Web to the media's depiction of illiteracy and the Donner Party These studies demonstrate how the discourse of AIDS prevention or Demi Moore's beautiful pregnancy call to mind the physical nature of being human and the ways in which language and other symbols reflect and create the physical world

Mappings Susan Stanford Friedman, 1998-10-19 In this powerful work Susan Friedman moves feminist theory out of paralyzing debates about us and them white and other first and third world and victimizers and victims Throughout Friedman adapts current cultural theory from global and transnational studies anthropology and geography to challenge modes of thought that exaggerate the boundaries of gender race ethnicity sexuality class and national origin The author promotes a transnational and heterogeneous feminism which she maintains can replace the proliferation of feminisms based on difference She argues for a feminist geopolitical literacy that goes beyond fundamentalist identity politics and absolutist poststructuralist theory and she continually focuses the reader's attention on those locations where differences are negotiated and transformed Pervading the book is a concern with narrative the way stories and cultural narratives serve as a primary mode of thinking about the politically explosive question of identity Drawing freely on modernist novels contemporary film popular fiction poetry and mass media the work features narratives of such writers and filmmakers as Gish Jen Julie Dash June Jordan James Joyce Gloria Anzaldua Neil Jordan Virginia Woolf Mira Nair Zora Neale Hurston E M Forster and Irena Klepfisz Defending the pioneering role of academic feminists in the knowledge revolution this work draws on a wide variety of twentieth century cultural expressions to address theoretical issues in postmodern feminism

Feminist Theory Reader Carole R. McCann, Seung-kyung Kim, 2016-07-07 The fourth edition of the Feminist Theory Reader continues to challenge readers to rethink the complex meanings of difference outside of contemporary Western feminist contexts This new edition contains a new subsection on intersectionality New readings turn readers attention to current debates about violence against women sex work care work transfeminisms and postfeminism The fourth edition also continues to expand the diverse voices of transnational feminist scholars throughout with particular attention to questions of class Introductory essays at the beginning of each section bring the readings together provide historical and intellectual context and point to critical additional readings Five core theoretical concepts gender difference women's experiences the personal is political and intersectionality anchor the anthology's organizational framework New to this edition text boxes in the introductory essays add excerpts from the writings of foundational theorists that help define important theoretical concepts and content by Dorothy Sue Cobble Cathy Cohen Emi Koyama Na Young Lee Angela McRobbie Viviane Namaste Vrushali Patil and Jasbir Puar

Feminist Locations Marianne DeKoven, 2001 The contributors to this volume look to the future of feminist theory and practice specifically in terms of their complex relationship with the global and local configurations of postmodernity It focuses on political issues and on questions of the body
