A Practical Guide to Testing Wireless Smartphone Applications Julian Harty, 2022-06-01 Testing applications for mobile phones is difficult time consuming and hard to do effectively Many people have limited their testing efforts to hands on testing of an application on a few physical handsets and they have to repeat the process every time a new version of the software is ready to test They may miss many of the permutations of real world use and as a consequence their users are left with the unpleasant mess of a failing application on their phone. Test automation can help to increase the range and scope of testing while reducing the overhead of manual testing of each version of the software. However, automation is not a panacea, particularly for mobile applications, so we need to pick our test automation challenges wisely. This book is intended to help software and test engineers pick appropriately to achieve more and, as a consequence, deliver better quality working software to users. This Synthesis lecture provides practical advice based on direct experience of using software test automation to help improve the testing of a wide range of mobile phone applications, including the latest AJAX applications. The focus is on applications that rely on a wireless network connection to a remote server; however, the principles may apply to other related fields and applications. We start by explaining terms and some of the key challenges involved in testing smartphone applications. Subsequent chapters describe a type of application, e.g., markup AJAX Client, followed by a related chapter on how to test each of these applications. Common test automation techniques are covered in a separate chapter, and finally, there is a brief chapter on when to test manually. The book also contains numerous pointers and links to further material to help you to improve your testing using automation appropriately.

Table of Contents: Introduction, Markup Languages, Testing Techniques for Markup Applications, AJAX Mobile Applications, Testing Mobile AJAX Applications, Client Applications, Testing Techniques for Client Applications, Common Techniques, When to Test Manually, Future Work, Appendix A: Links and References, Appendix B: Data Connectivity, Appendix C: Configuring Your Machine.

Mobility Aware Technologies and Applications Thomas Magedanz, Ahmed Karmouch, Samuel Pierre, Iakovos Venieris, 2005-11-16. The beginning of the twenty-first century is characterized by global markets, and the mobility of people is becoming an important fact of life. Consequently, the mobile user is demanding appropriate technical solutions to make use of customized information and communication services. In this context, the notion of next-generation networks (NGNs), which are driven by the convergence of the entertainment sector, the mobile Internet, and fixed mobile telecommunications, is emerging. Such NGNs are aggregating a variety of different access networks and supporting the seamless connection of an open set of end-user devices, and due to the adoption of an all-IP network paradigm, they enable a much better integration of voice and data services. Coincidentally, the buzzword fixed mobile convergence (FMC) describes the current trend towards providing common services across fixed and mobile networks, resulting in the medium term in the full integration of fixed and mobile telecommunication networks. The adoption of appropriate middleware technologies and the provision of called service delivery platforms driven by the ongoing innovation in the field of information technologies provides today the technical foundation for supporting terminal personal and service mobility and thus the implementation of real seamless information and communication services Furthermore users are nowadays looking in light of an omnipresent service environment for a much higher degree of customization and context awareness in the services they use The papers in this volume look at these enabling mobility aware technologies and their use for implementing mobility aware and context aware applications Urbanism on Track Jeroen Schaick, Stefan C.
