Fragkou, Rebecca Benzie, 2025-02-06 This handbook provides a detailed exploration of the rich and diverse theatrical work produced by women in the first two decades of 21st century British theatre. The book explores key issues and methodologies relevant to women working in the UK's theatre industry including the legacies of feminism and its role in shaping contemporary work by women, the politics of visibility and inclusion in theatrical institutions and collaborative strategies in creating original work. It closely examines how women in contemporary British theatre tackle urgent social issues such as environmental risk, the representation of marginalized identities and mental and physical wellbeing. Chapters by both established and early career scholars from a variety of international contexts present new perspectives on significant questions and issues underpinning women's work in 21st century British theatre by engaging with contemporary debates from theatre and performance studies and cultural theory. A concluding roundtable with women theatre practitioners addresses key questions pertaining to their work including working conditions, the politics of funding and of ageing, disability and care. With a foreword by the Guardian's chief theatre critic Arifa Akbar and featuring research tools such as introductions to sections, a detailed list of sources and an annotated bibliography, this is an authoritative study for anyone with a keen research interest in the distinct contribution of women to contemporary British theatre and performance.

Contemporary Performance and Political Economy Katerina Paramana, 2025-02-18 Contemporary Performance and Political Economy examines haunting concepts, relations and artworks that demand our attention. Under capitalism, political and ethical considerations are subordinated to economic ones, and this subordination creates ghost worlds. Performance works, however, can offer insights into alternative politico-economic models. In this major contribution to the fields of contemporary performance and political economy, Katerina Paramana proposes that the investigation of performance works as economies can make the insights performance works offer visible. She positions the examination in relation to contemporary critiques of capitalism, neo-feudalism and their by-products and proposes and develops the notion of oikonomia as a means to theorize artworks which, through their house (oikos), rules (nomoi), propose ethico-political challenges to the economies in which they are embedded. For this, Paramana looks at politically positioned performance works created and presented in Cuba, Europe, Mexico, the UK and the US. Her interest is in the politics, ethics and effects of these works, house rules and the insights they offer to the reconceptualization of political economy. Ultimately, this book aims to transform our understanding of economy's purpose. It contributes to the development of a new ethico-political paradigm upon which a reconceptualization of political economy can be based. This inspiring study seeks to keep the fire for change alive by demonstrating that political economies, much like performances, are experiments that can be changed. This work will be of great interest to students and scholars in performance studies, theatre, visual cultures, politics, cultural studies, dance and visual arts and critical theorists.
