My Brother's Keeper Jonathan Burnside, Joanna Adler, Nancy Loucks, Gerry Rose, 2013-06-17 Ten years ago there were no faith based units in prisons outside South America Today they are spreading all over the world including the United States Europe and the Commonwealth My Brother s Keeper is the first major study of a global phenomenon Exploring the roots of faith based units in South America it explains why the Prison Service of England and Wales set up the first Christian based unit in the western world in 1997 and its rapid expansion It also explains how at exactly the same time the United States introduced Christian based units and why they were complimented by interfaith and multifaith initiatives At the heart of My Brother s Keeper is an interior account of life inside four Christian based prison units in England It draws on the findings of a detailed evaluation conducted by the authors for the Home Office Prison Service and Kainos Community between 2000 and 2001 including an updated reconviction study It is an authoritative account of an innovative programme Its analysis of what works and what doesn t in faith based units around the world makes My Brother s Keeper a valuable roadmap for all who care about improving prison conditions It presents a vision of justice that is not just concerned with building more prisons but with rebuilding more prisoners It argues that by making prisons more human and punishment more humane faith based units can be of value and keep faith in prisons

The Healthcare Practitioner's Handbook of Management Larry D. Grieshaber, 2024-11-01 The American system of healthcare is rapidly changing Today more and more of an emphasis is being placed on management skills organizing coordinating and managing the resources required for providing quality patient care Medical practitioners are now expected to be efficient administrators as well as skilled clinicians Although some may see this as a difficult hurdle The Healthcare Practitioner s Handbook of Management shows that many healthcare providers are already well prepared to perform management roles effectively Through their education and clinical experience most clinicians now have the problem solving skills required for management it s simply a matter of applying these skills to a different arena In keeping with this idea each chapter of The Healthcare Practitioner s Handbook of Management links a management topic to a clinical analogy and presents diagnostic and treatment approaches to the issue at hand In addition the book introduces the healthcare professional to the vocabulary and basic theories of management and shows how to transform clinical skills into managerial skills In today s complex health

Animal Care and Management at the National Zoo National Research Council, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Institute for Laboratory Animal Research, Board on Agriculture and Natural Resources, Committee on the Review of the Smithsonian Institution's National Zoological Park, 2005-11-27 This report follows up on an interim report released in February 2004 that focused on immediate needs in the areas of animal care and management recordkeeping and pest control. The report finds that the zoo has made good faith efforts to correct deficiencies noted in the interim report and has made some noticeable improvements in the past year in zoo operations and animal care. However, problems in areas such as staff training, workplace culture, and strategic planning still need to be addressed. Specifically, the report recommends that the zoo immediately develop and implement animal care training programs to ensure that people who are directly responsible for the well being of its animal collection are adequately prepared and competent. The report commends a zoo-initiated strategic planning process as a positive step but recommends it contain a more detailed comprehensive strategy of how it will meet short-term goals and that it should link plans to upgrade facilities with those to acquire animals. The zoo should also focus on improving communication among keepers, veterinarians, nutritionists, senior managers, and curators
