Gale, Jean V. McHale, 2015-04-10 The provision and use of traditional complementary and alternative medicine CAM has been growing globally over the last 40 years As CAM develops alongside and sometimes integrates with conventional medicine this handbook provides the first major overview of its regulation and professionalization from social science and legal perspectives The Routledge Handbook of Complementary and Alternative Medicine draws on historical and international comparative research to provide a rigorous and thematic examination of the field It argues that many popular and policy debates are stuck in a polarized and largely asocial discourse and that interdisciplinary social science perspectives theorising diversity in the field provide a much more robust evidence base for policy and practice in the field Divided into four sections the handbook covers analytical frameworks power professions and health spaces risk and regulation perspectives for the future This important volume will interest social science and legal scholars researching complementary and alternative medicine professional identify and health care regulation as well as historians and health policymakers and regulators A Polish Doctor in the Nazi Camps Barbara Rylko-Bauer, 2014-02-24 Jadwiga Lenartowicz Rylko known as Jadzia Yah jah was a young Polish Catholic physician in d at the start of World War II Suspected of resistance activities she was arrested in January 1944 For the next fifteen months she endured three Nazi concentration camps and a forty two day death march spending part of this time working as a prisoner doctor to Jewish slave laborers A Polish Doctor in the Nazi Camps follows Jadzia from her childhood and medical training through her wartime experiences to her struggles to create a new life in the postwar world Jadzia's daughter anthropologist Barbara Rylko Bauer constructs an intimate ethnography that weaves a personal family narrative against a twentieth century historical backdrop As Rylko Bauer travels back in time with her mother we learn of the particular hardships that female concentration camp prisoners faced The struggle continued after the war as Jadzia attempted to rebuild her life first as a refugee doctor in Germany and later as an immigrant to the United States Like many postwar immigrants Jadzia had high hopes of making new connections and continuing her career Unable to surmount personal economic and social obstacles to medical licensure however she had to settle for work as a nurse saide As a contribution to accounts of wartime experiences Jadzia's story stands out for its sensitivity to the complexities of the Polish memory of war Built upon both historical research
