POVERTY AND HUMAN DEVELOPMENT REPORT 2007

The Poverty and Human Development Report 2007 provides a comprehensive national analysis of poverty in Trinidad and Tobago.

Key findings of interest to the public sector and the Government are included under the heading 'Executive Summary: Findings for Trinidad and Tobago' in Chapter 1. Subsequent chapters discuss the country's economic growth, employment, income, and poverty trends, and the impact of government interventions.

Particular attention is given to the findings of a 2006 household survey, which is the first survey ever conducted in Trinidad and Tobago. This survey provides a detailed picture of the country's economic and social conditions, and is a key source of information for policy-making.

Key recommendations for growth, which is the central theme of the report, are included in Chapter 2. An executive summary is provided in Chapter 3, which includes a list of recommendations for policy-making. The report also includes a list of recommendations for policy-making, which are included in Chapter 4.

A New Blueprint for a Green Economy Edward B. Barbier, Anil Markandya, 2013-06-03 Published in 1989 Blueprint for a Green Economy presented for the first time practical policy measures for greening modern economies and putting them on a path to sustainable development This new book written by two of the Blueprint for a Green Economy authors revisits and updates its main messages by asking first what has been achieved in the past twenty years and second what more needs to be done to generate a truly green economy in the twenty first century Blueprint for a Green Economy had one over arching theme Making economies more sustainable requires urgent progress in three key policy areas valuing the environment accounting for the environment and incentives for environmental improvement Today with the threat of global warming the decline in major ecosystems and their services and fears over energy security achieving these goals is even more vital The current book first summarizes the main messages from Blueprint for a Green Economy and explains why given rapid and widespread global environmental degradation they are still relevant The book then examines the progress since Blueprint for a Green Economy in implementing policies and other measures to improve environmental valuation accounting and incentives Although much has been accomplished additional advances are still required to green economies successfully The book highlights the new policies and approaches needed for economic management of today s environmental concerns Over twenty years later A New Blueprint for a Green Economy once again emphasizes practical policies for greening modern economies and explains why such an economic roadmap to a greener future is essential if modern economies are to develop successfully and sustainably

State of the World's Cities 2008/9 Un-Habitat, 2012-05-04 Cities are perhaps one of humanity s most complex creations never finished never definitive They are like a journey that never ends Their evolution is determined by their ascent into greatness or their descent into decline They are the past the present and the future Cities contain both order and chaos In them reside beauty and ugliness virtue and vice They can bring out the best or the worst in humankind They are the physical manifestation of history and culture and incubators of innovation industry technology entrepreneurship and creativity Cities are the materialization of humanity s noblest ideas ambitions and aspirations but when not planned or governed properly can be the repository of society s ills Cities drive national economies by creating wealth enhancing social development and providing employment but they can also be the breeding grounds for poverty exclusion and environmental degradation The 21st Century is the Century of the City Half of humanity now lives in cities and within the next two decades 60 per cent of the world s people will reside in urban areas How can city planners and policymakers harmonize the various interests diversity and inherent contradictions within cities What ingredients are needed to create harmony between the physical social environmental and cultural aspects of a city and the human beings that inhabit it This report adopts the concept of Harmonious Cities as a theoretical framework in order to understand today s urban world and also as an operational tool to confront the most important challenges facing urban areas and their development processes It recognizes that tolerance diversity social justice and good governance all of which are inter related are as important to sustainable urban development as physical planning It addresses national concerns by searching for solutions at the city level For that purpose it focuses on three key areas spatial or regional harmony which examines the main drivers of urban growth in the developing world and explores the spatial nuances of economic and social policies social harmony which presents and analyzes new data on urban inequalities worldwide and describes the types of shelter deprivations experienced by slum dwellers in developing world regions and environmental harmony which examines the role of cities in the climate change debate and the impact of global warming on the most vulnerable cities The report also assesses the various intangible assets within cities that contribute to harmony such as cultural heritage sense of place and memory and the complex set of social and symbolic relationships that give cities meaning It argues that these intangible assets represent the soul of the city and are as important for harmonious urban development as tangible assets Harmony within cities argues the report is both a journey and a destination Published with UN HABITAT

Geography of Deprivation Bimalendu Bhattacharya, 2014-01-01 Poverty Hunger and Malnutrition worldwide are the major focus of this book taken up as the principal areas of human deprivation with wide geographical variations as determined by different factors Gender discrimination in its various manifestations and child abuse also feature very prominently as other forms of deprivation corroding life and attitudes of people requiring very serious concern to deal with the prevailing humiliating situation along with an assessment of the earth's capability of redressing human suffering through poverty and hunger

State of the Urban Youth, 2010/2011, 2010 This report is based on data from UN HABITAT's Global Urban Indicator Database as well as surveys of and focus group discussions with selected representative groups of young people in five major cities located in four developing regions Rio de Janeiro Brazil Mumbai India Kingston Jamaica Nairobi Kenya and Lagos Nigeria p ix

Betrayed S. Kaplan, 2013-11-26 Betrayed takes a new approach to the subject of global poverty one that doesn't blame the West but also doesn't rely on the West for solutions Betrayed puts the poor themselves at center stage and shows how their entrepreneurial energies are shackled by political and social discrimination When these shackles are removed as is happening in places such as China and Vietnam the poor are able to seize opportunities and drive wealth creation Combining the latest research into poverty and state building with the author's personal observations drawn from years running businesses in the developing world Betrayed explains how leaders in the developing world can build more inclusive societies and more equitable governments thereby creating dynamic national economies and giving the poor the opportunity to accumulate the means and skills to control their own destinies This refreshing new approach will appeal to business people who are fed up with reading critiques of global poverty that see capitalism as the problem not the solution people in both the global North and South who want to see attention focused not on Western aid but on what developing countries and their citizens can do to help themselves scholars and practitioners in the development field who are looking for new practicable ideas and general readers who want accessible and engaging accounts of ordinary people struggling to overcome poverty

Community Practice Skills Dorothy N. Gamble,Marie Weil,2010 Dorothy N Gamble and Marie Weil differentiate among a range of intervention methods to provide a comprehensive and effective guide to working with communities Presenting eight distinct models grounded in current practice and targeted toward specific goals Gamble and Weil take an unusually inclusive step combining their own extensive experience with numerous case and practice examples from talented practitioners in international and domestic settings The authors open with a discussion of the theories for community work and the values of social justice and human rights concerns that have guided the work of activists from Jane Addams and Martin Luther King Jr to Cesar Chavez Wangari Maathai and Vandana Shiva They survey the concepts knowledge and perspectives influencing community practice and evaluation strategies Descriptions of eight practice models follow incorporating real life case examples from many parts of the world and demonstrating multiple applications for each model as well as the primary roles competencies and skills used by the practitioner Complexities and variations encourage readers to determine through comparative analysis which model at which time best fits the goals of a community group or organization given the context culture social economic and environmental issues and opportunities for change An accompanying workbook stressing empowerment strategies and skills development is also available from Columbia University Press

Social Responsibility and Sustainability Walter Leal Filho,2019-01-14 This book comprehensively describes social responsibility and sustainable development with contributions from scientists and representatives from industry working in the field The papers are innovative cross cutting and many share practice based experiences some of which may be replicable elsewhere Prepared by the Inter University Sustainable Development Research Programme IUSDRP and the World Sustainable Development Research and Transfer Centre WSD RTC it reiterates the current need to promote social responsibility Social responsibility and sustainable development are two different concepts whose integration over the years has led to significant advances in the way enterprises see and perceive their operations. It is not only about policies or steps taken to meet legal requirements but is also about social equality and environmental accountability also bearing in mind the links with eco efficiency innovation and the health and wellbeing of workers. According to ISO 26000 social responsibility is the responsibility of an organisation for the impacts of its decisions and activities on society and the environment through transparent and ethical behaviour that a) contributes to sustainable development including health and the welfare of society b) takes into account the expectations of stakeholders c) is in compliance with applicable law and consistent with international norms of behaviour d) is integrated throughout the organisation and practised in its relationships. But even though the relations between social responsibility and sustainability are strong it is still necessary to encourage organisations to adhere to or at least follow the principles of sustainable development in their operations giving something back to the community. As such there is a need for a better understanding of how social responsibility is related to sustainable development and of the identification of processes methods and tools that may help the integration of these two important elements. There is also a real need to showcase successful examples of how to structure behaviour and institutional practice in line with the sustainability challenges we face today.
