Directions (1-4): Read the following passage and answer the given questions.

Brown's theory of positive thinking, while optimistic in its emphasis, fails to address the sheer complexity and inherent uncertainties of life. Advocating for a constant positive outlook, the theory overlooks the intricate interplay of external factors and human emotions that shape our existence.

Central to this theory is the belief that positivity can significantly _____ life outcomes. However, the perspective underestimates the weight of uncontrollable elements such as socio-economic backgrounds, health issues, and random life events. These factors often have a profound impact on our lives, regardless of our mindset. By disregarding these aspects, Brown's theory risks oversimplifying the diverse and often unpredictable nature of human experiences.

Furthermore, the theory's emphasis on perpetual positivity neglects the importance of experiencing a range of emotions. Emotions like sadness, anger, and frustration are not only natural but necessary for a holistic emotional experience. The insistence on positivity can lead to the suppression of these emotions, causing psychological strain and potentially exacerbating mental health issues. This is contrary to the theory's goal of fostering well-being.

Additionally, Brown's theory does not fully recognize the range of resilience, which is crucial in navigating life's challenges. Resilience is a broad psychological attribute, not just maintaining a positive outlook. It involves understanding the nature of one's situation, accepting the presence of obstacles, and developing strategies to adapt and overcome them. This approach is far more practical and sustainable than mere positive thinking.

In conclusion, while promoting a positive outlook is beneficial, it is insufficient when confronted with life's complexities. A more nuanced approach, which acknowledges the full spectrum of human emotions and life's unpredictability, is essential. True resilience, without the overemphasis of positivity and an embrace of life's uncertainties, can lead to effectiveness. Integrating positivity with a realistic and adaptable mindset, therefore, is more effective strategy for dealing with life's inherent uncertainties.

Q1. According to the passage, what is a fundamental flaw in Brown's theory of positive thinking?

(a) The theory consistently promotes a mindset that

(a) Brown's theory excessively emphasizes the importance of constant well-being.

(b) The theory significantly underestimates unpredictability and complexity of life.

(c) It advocates for a perspective that readily accepts a pessimistic development.

(d) The focus of Brown's theory is primarily on addressing health issues.

Q2. What does the passage imply is a more viable approach than mere positive thinking?

(a) Fostering and implementing strategies to adapt to overcome life's challenges.

(b) Strictly concentrating on achieving a state of happiness at all circumstances.

(c) Adopting an approach that involves completely ignoring life's inherent difficulties.

(d) Consistently maintaining a positive outlook irrespective of underlying realities.

(e) Depending on the suppression of emotions to avoid instances of positivity.

Q3. How does the passage address the role of emotional factors in Brown's theory of positive thinking?

(a) It criticizes the theory for its comprehensive inclusion of emotional factors.

(b) The passage validates the theory for its disregard of emotional variables.

(c) It asserts that emotional factors are overemphasized in Brown's theory.

(d) Acknowledging the potential emotional factors are within the control of the theory.

(e) The theory is praised for perfectly balancing various emotional influences.
