

Perfect Competition Guided Notes

1. Four characteristics of perfect competition:
2. Many buyers and sellers
3. Homogeneous products
4. Free entry and exit
5. Perfect information

Part 1: Perfect Competition (Micro 1, Chapter 10)

Perfect competition is the most perfect competition because the following characteristics:

1. Many buyers and sellers: Each individual buyer and seller is too small to influence the market price. They are price takers.
2. Homogeneous products: All sellers sell identical products. There is no differentiation.
3. Free entry and exit: Firms can enter or leave the industry without any significant costs or barriers.
4. Perfect information: All buyers and sellers have access to all relevant information about the market.

Perfect competition is a theoretical model that is used to analyze the behavior of firms in a market. It is a good approximation of many real-world markets, such as agricultural markets, foreign exchange markets, and stock markets.

Perfect competition is a market structure in which there are many buyers and sellers, each of whom is a price taker. This means that no single buyer or seller has the power to influence the market price. The market price is determined by the interaction of all buyers and sellers. In perfect competition, firms are price takers and must accept the market price for their product.
