The New Element Berkelium (atomic Number 97) Stanley Gerald Thompson, Albert Ghiorso, Glenn Theodore Seaborg, 1950 An isotope of the element with atomic number 97 has been discovered as a product of the helium ion bombardment of americium This isotope decays with the emission of alpha particles of maximum energy 6 72 Mev 30 percent and it emits lower energy alpha particles of energies 6 55 Mev 53 percent and 6 20 Mev 17 percent The half life of this isotope is 4 6 hours and it decays primarily by electron capture with about 0 1 percent branching decay by alpha particle emission The mass number is probably 243 as indicated by chemical separation of the alpha particle and electron capture daughters The name berkelium symbol Bk is proposed for element 97 The chemical separation of element 97 from the target material and other reaction products was made by combinations of precipitation and ion exchange adsorption methods making use of its anticipated III and IV oxidation states and its position as a member of the actinide transition series The distinctive chemical properties made use of in its separation and the equally distinctive decay properties of the particular isotope constitute the principal evidence for the new element
