

Population Distributions

How does population distribution affect the outcome?

Why?

Alaska voters were 100% white and 100% female. In the largest case in the United States, are white + populations of nearly 100,000 people really that homogeneous? In Alaska, Texas, New Jersey or even in the median state and house, is a population of nearly 1 million that diverse? If 10% of the 10,000,000 total had been an unrepresented constituency, what are the reasons that this single population share negatively skewed enough to affect the election outcome? Are there reasons?
