The Oxford Handbook of Sociology, Social Theory, and Organization Studies Paul S. Adler,Paul Du Gay,Glenn Morgan,Michael I. Reed,2014 Sociology and social theory has always been a major source of new perspectives for organization studies Access to a series of authoritative accounts of theorists and research themes in sociology and social theory which have influenced developments in organization studies is essential for those wishing to deepen and extend their knowledge of the intersection of sociology and organization studies This goal is achieved by drawing on a group of internationally renowned scholars committed in their own work to strengthening these links and asking them to provide critical accounts of particular theorists and research themes which have straddled this divide This volume aims to strengthen ties between organization studies and contemporary sociological work at a time when there are increasing institutional barriers to such cooperation potentially generating a myopia that constricts new developments Used in conjunction with its companion volume The Oxford Handbook of Sociology and Organization Studies Classical Foundations the reader is provided with a comprehensive account of the productive and critical interaction between sociology and organization studies over many decades Highly international in scope theorists and themes are drawn from both the USA and Europe in equal measure Similarly the authors of the chapters are drawn from both sides of the Atlantic The result is a series of chapters on individuals and key research themes and debates which will provide faculty and post graduate researchers with appreciative authoritative and critical accounts that can be drawn on to design courses or provided guided reading to the field Academic Publishing David Coniam, Peter Falvey, 2022-10-02 This book focuses on the topic of academic publishing It discusses the mounting serious problems that researchers particularly new researchers encounter when trying to publish their research The book addresses the issues of publishing as well as the salient factors militating against academic publication and the mitigating factors encouraging academic publication It provides potential solutions suggestions and strategies for overcoming some of these problems Growing research output from Southeast Asia including Singapore Malaysia Taiwan and China reveals the struggles that many authors have to confront when attempting to publish their work in reputable journals In both South Africa and other parts of Africa academic researchers are beginning to show strong evidence of credible academic output These researchers all need valid outlets for their work and the security that authentic peer review brings to the reviewing process In the fields of education social sciences and professional practices e g architecture and law recent years have seen the emergence of new outlets for practitioners research outputs in areas such as one s own practice self reflection and narrative inquiry These outlets are discussed in this book The book also discusses the malign influence of predatory publications in detail This book will be beneficial to university academics postgraduate students Ph D supervisors and new researchers Digital Transformations of Illicit Drug Markets Meropi

Motivational Beliefs Steve Graham, Gary A. Troia, Gustaf Bernhard Uno Skar, 2024-06-21 The study of students motivational beliefs about writing and how such beliefs influence writing has increased since the publication of John Hays 1996 model of writing This model emphasized that writers motivational beliefs influence how and what they write Likewise increased attention has been devoted in recent years to how teachers motivational beliefs about writing especially their efficacy to teach writing impact how writing is taught and how students progress as writers As a result there is a need to bring together in a Research Topic studies that examine the role and influence of writing beliefs Historically the psychological study of writing has focused on what students write or the processes they apply when writing Equally important but investigated less often are studies examining how writing is taught and how teachers efforts contribute to students writing What has been less prominent in the psychological study of writing are the underlying motivational beliefs that drive or inhibit students writing or serve as catalysts for teachers actions in the classroom when teaching writing This Research Topic will bring together studies that examine both students and teachers motivational beliefs about teaching writing This will include studies examining the operation of such beliefs how they develop cognitive and affective correlates how writing motivational beliefs can be fostered and how they are related to students writing achievement By focusing on both students and teachers beliefs the Research Topic will provide a more nuanced and broader picture of the role of motivation beliefs in writing and writing instruction This Research Topic includes papers that address students motivational beliefs about writing teachers motivational beliefs about writing or teaching writing Students motivational beliefs about writing include beliefs about the value and utility of writing writing competence attitudes toward writing goal orientation motives for writing identity epistemological underpinnings writing and attributions for success failure as examples Teacher motivational include these same judgements as well as beliefs about their preparation and their students competence and progress as writers to provide additional examples This Research Topic is interested in papers that examine how such beliefs operate develop are related to other cognitive and affective variables how they are impacted by instruction and how they are related to students writing performance Submitted studies can include original research both quantitative qualitative or mixed methods meta analysis and reviews of the literature

Can We Measure What Matters Most? J. M. Beach, 2021-09-30 This book examines the idea of educational accountability which has become a new secular gospel But do accountability policies actually make schools better Do business management theories and practices make organizations more effective What if the most widely used management theories and assessment tools don't work What if educational accountability tools don't actually measure what they're supposed to What if accountability data isn't valid or worse what if it's meaningless What if administrators don't know how to use accountability tools or correctly analyze the problematic data these tools produce What if we can't measure let alone accurately assess what matters most with teaching or student learning How is a business model of economic efficiency supposed to increase the competing and perhaps mutually exclusive ends of schooling such as human development student learning personal satisfaction social mobility and economic growth What if students don't learn much in schools What if schools were never designed to produce student learning This book will answer these questions with a wide interdisciplinary range of the latest scientific research
