Cycles of Poverty and Crime in America's Inner Cities Lewis D. Solomon,2012-08-14 Despite the best hopes of the past half century black urban pathologies persist in America The inner cities remain concentrations of the uneducated unemployed underemployed and unemployable Many fail to stay in school and others choose lives of drugs violence and crime Most do not marry leading to single parent households and children without a father figure The cycle repeats itself generation after generation It is easy to argue that nothing works given the policy failures of the past For Lewis D Solomon fatalism is not acceptable A complex and interrelated web of issues plague inner city black males joblessness the failure of public education crime mass incarceration and drugs the collapse of married two parent families and negative cultural messages Rather than abandon the black urban underclass Solomon presents strategies and programs to rebuild lives and revitalize America s inner cities These approaches are neither government oriented nor dependent on federal intervention and they are not futuristic Focusing on rehabilitative efforts Solomon describes workforce development prisoner reentry and the role of nonprofit organizations Solomon s strategies focus on the need to improve the quality of America s workforce through building human capital at the socioeconomic bottom The goal is to enable more people to fend for themselves thereby weaning them from dependency on public sector handouts Solomon shows a path forward for inner city black males

Restoring Opportunity Greg J. Duncan, Richard J. Murnane, 2014-01-01 In this landmark volume Greg J Duncan and Richard J Murnane lay out a meticulously researched case showing how in a time of spiraling inequality strategically targeted interventions and supports can help schools significantly improve the life chances of low income children The authors offer a brilliant synthesis of recent research on inequality and its effects on families children and schools They describe the interplay of social and economic factors that has made it increasingly hard for schools to counteract the effects of inequality and that has created a widening wedge between low and high income students Restoring Opportunity provides detailed portraits of proven initiatives that are transforming the lives of low income children from prekindergarten through high school All of these programs are research tested and have demonstrated sustained effectiveness over time and at significant scale Together they offer a powerful vision of what good instruction in effective schools can look like The authors conclude by outlining the elements of a new agenda for education reform Restoring Opportunity is a crowning contribution from these two leading economists in the field of education and a passionate call to action on behalf of the young people on whom our nation s future depends Copublished with the Russell Sage Foundation Southern Economic Journal Cumulative Index, 1975

California in a Time of Excellence James Andrew LaSpina, 2009-02-26 California in a Time of Excellence follows the Golden State s efforts to reform its public school system from 1983 to the present Beginning with progressive curriculum reform initiatives that were launched even before the National Commission on Excellence in Education NCEE issued A Nation at Risk in 1983 James Andrew LaSpina traces these reform efforts through recurring culture wars major clashes of personality and a conflict between the state s tradition of progressive educational policy and a culture of conservatism that colored much of the so called Left Coast s history since the sixties While the battles over curriculum reform in California reflect those at the national level the political world surrounding this conflict reveals the enormous significance of the conflict and its implications for our national future The Publishers Weekly ,1911 Canadian Engineer ,1929
