Performance Evaluation in the Human Services Simon Slavin, Wayne Matheson, Kenneth Millar, Cornelius Van Dyk, 2014-03-18 Performance Evaluation in the Human Services is a practical, specific book for managers on how to conduct performance evaluations. The book moves beyond the traditional rating scale and focuses on a new model involving the employee in the evaluation process. It stresses the need for evaluation scales to match the job description in a manner that is educational future oriented and time saving Managers who must conduct performance reviews will find that this book presents a unique advancement on the use of behaviorally anchored rating scales for evaluation The authors focus on the developmental educational components of evaluation and stress employee empowerment as a result of evaluation The authors have created an employee review system with three core components The new appraisal model works on a One Size Fits All philosophy It can be applied to all employees while the exact evaluating qualities differ as each job description does Fundamental features of this new evaluative model include the use of the Benchmark concept a scale which indicates the level of the organization s expectations and balances the administrative evaluative components and professional developmental issues BARS Behaviorally Anchored Rating Scales CORE and A LA CARTE Dimensions which allows for evaluation of generic aspects of performance and job specific components the use of traditional approaches to evaluation such as trait based scales and forced comparison techniques The rating system in Performance Evaluation in the Human Services serves as a means of identifying areas for middle and upper managers to identify areas for employees professional growth and self development This approach is goal oriented and can change and grow with the employee and the organization Most importantly it is built by both staff and management to be used as a tool for working together to define specific job requirements and how these requirements can be met and evaluated
